Liquor Prescription Fight Looms in U. S.

OFFICIALS DISAGREE ON LAW

Limitation On Amount For Physicians' Patients Held Illogical

MELLON OPPOSED BY PROHIBITION CHIEF

May Carry Controversy to Supreme Court Bench
For Final Decision

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—A disagreement over prohibition enforcement which the supreme court and congress will be called on to settle has occurred between Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

Mellon regards as illogical and improper the provision of law limiting the amount of liquor doctors may prescribe for their patients. He believes congress either did not intend arbitrarily to put a drastic limitation on doctors or that if it had that intention, it was wrong.

Haynes replies that such arguments that it is the law and has to be enforced, no matter whether it is illogical.

The disagreement has been brought to light by the action of Judge Knox in New York yesterday in granting an injunction to prevent prohibition authorities interfering with a doctor in prescribing liquor.

That decision, by taking off the limit entirely from doctors, left them free, in Mellon's opinion, to prescribe the liquor they think necessary.

Haynes takes an entirely opposite view. He warned doctors today that no one but the individual doctor in New York who sued was freed by the Knox injunction from the law's limitations.

At once a race began between Haynes and Mellon to uphold their distinct and clashing views.

Haynes and his legal staff will carry an appeal to the supreme court and ask speedy decision on the point, which may prove vital to successful prohibition enforcement.

Mellon began preparation of new regulations, stating in effect to doctors that their conscience should in the future guide them in prescribing liquor.

Mellon's position is that a doctor knows better than congress how much liquor he ought to order a patient to take. All Haynes has to do with it, in Mellon's opinion, is to see that forgery of prescriptions or "bootlegging" by unscrupulous medics is not permitted.

Haynes wants to know how he can be expected to enforce prohibition if the courts keep poking holes in the law, like the recent American ship ruling and the Knox injunction.

Mellon, replying that the Knox ruling did not punch any holes in the law, pointed out that the limitation on liquor prescriptions was passed by congress as an afterthought. It is an interference with, and a reflection on the high profession, anyway, Mellon holds.

The whole row will be taken up next winter when congress begins a raking over of the prohibition enforcement.

Wets say it is just another nail in the coffin of the Volstead law.

Rejects Plan to Tie Up Government Oil

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Secretary of the Interior Work today rejected bids for a five-year contract to buy government royalty oils produced in Wyoming outside the Teapot Dome and Salt Creek fields.
The bids were at the current field market price and Work decided it would be inadvisable to tie up government oil for five years at a price obtainable at any time.

OIL DERRICK BLAST FIRE KILLS 11

Explosion In Texas Petroleum Field Brings Fatal Results

(By United Press Leased Wire)
CORPUS, Texas, May 10.—
Eleven men were burned to death in a fire which destroyed an oil well on the Hughes-McKie lease last night following an explosion, according to information to authorities today.

The charred skeletons of three men could be seen still smouldering near the derrick, while eight bodies had been recovered from the ruined area.

Efforts to rescue the three bodies have been futile because of the intense heat caused by the flames, which were still beyond control of the fire fighters.

Officials who checked up today said there were two workers who were missing who had either escaped or been trapped in the flames.

The identified dead:
Emmett Byrd, W. A. ("Dan")
Phillips, Fred Craig, L. P. Sheek,
W. A. Hicks, Travis Owens, Jack
Cooper and one unidentified.

Reported missing:
L. C. Cook, S. P. Allen, James Phillips, M. O. Turner, Max Mel-ner.

L. A. Sheriff Hears Of Tiger Girl Plot

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—A well defined plot to free a woman believed to be Clara Phillips, convicted hammer murderer, from her hotel-jail in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, is believed to be under way, according to information received at the sheriff's office today.

Information that the woman's associates contemplated this move was intercepted, it was said. At the same time it was learned that this group of friends had rented two rooms in a hotel near the county jail on the night of Clara's escape.

Jess Carson, the woman's traveling companion, has made threats that "his friends" would thwart the attempts of the extradition party or Honduras police "with machine guns if necessary" according to word reaching the sheriff's office.
Carson's statements are not taken seriously, as he is believed to be a little unbalanced.

LIONS PREPARE FOR STATE CONVENTION

Wives and lady friends of the members of the Lions club, today were ready for the word "Go" for the big district convention of Lions clubs to be held here May 24-26.
It was indicated at the meeting of the club at St. Ann's Inn at noon today, when the women were present.

Convention plans were discussed briefly, the women being informed of the part they are to have in entertaining the vast number of men and women expected here for the convention.

Mrs. Harry Hanson, as chairman of the women's committee, and Mrs. Elliott H. Rowland, as a member of the committee, urged full co-operation with the men in their program of making the coming gathering a big success.

Home Town Folks Throw Down Piggly Wiggly Man

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 10.—
The home town folks failed to support Clarence Saunders, former $4 a week grocery clerk, in the biggest financial battle of his sensational career, and Memphis has lost Piggly Wiggly.

"Memphis has failed me," Saunders declared in a point blank announcement. "There is no way to save my stockholders and myself but to accept financial help from other places."

The announcement was made when results of a campaign to dispose of 50,000 shares of Piggly Wiggly stock locally showed the goal had not been reached.

Two explosions followed shortly, and two tanks of crude oil were immediately licked up by the flames, which threatened several refineries in the district. Parvin's body was trapped in the blazing oil-soaked grass.

The other two workmen, Charles Pinchette and A. Galside, were badly burned about the arms and face.

The fire was brought under control in a few minutes by the fire department. Damage was estimated at $50,000.

The Pacific Petroleum, Hercules, Gilmore and General Petroleum refineries surround the burning plant.

The absence of a court reported, after noon today, made necessary the continuance until May 23, of the preliminary hearing of L. L. Sisler and George Putnam, charged with grand larceny in connection with the asserted wholesale thefts of $60,000 worth of oil pipe and joints in Southern California fields.

The hearing was begun at 10 a.
m. today, and several witnesses testified before noon, when the continuance was granted.

John Stoddard, and his brother, Charles Stoddard, Cypress truck owners, although they were obviously unwilling witnesses, testified that Chris Buell, Olive, hired them to haul pipe from Signal Hill to Huntington Beach. Buell testified in corroboration, but did not know who hired him.

Charles Mitchell, detective, had just begun his testimony, telling the story of the investigation which led to the arrest of the two defendants, when the noon recess was taken and the hearing was continued.

The two regular reporters were both occupied in departments one and two of the superior court, and one additional reporter in department three, pro tem, so that it was necessary to secure a shorthand expert from Los Angeles. He was compelled to return to Los Angeles at noon, and no substitute could be secured to take a stenographic report of the preliminary proceedings.

'Cake Eater Bandit Gang Queen' Faces Hazing Death Quiz

CHICAGO, May 10.—Elizabeth ("Honey") Sullivan and members of her alleged "cake eater bandit gang" were placed on the witness list today to testify before the grand jury investigating the death of Leighton Mount.
George Gorman, assistant state's attorney, said the young men, whom police connected with North Shore robberies, will be questioned about reports that "townies" took part in the 1921 class run at Northwestern university and may furnish clues to Mount's death.

Tommy Gash, friend of "Honey," was the first to testify. He denied knowledge of the gang activities or hazing.

State's Attorney Robert E.
Crowe today let it be known he had abandoned a theory that Mount committed suicide and his body was concealed under the pier where it was found.

MOTOR CARRIER RECEIPTS TAX BILL IS UP

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 10.—
Consideration of the Duval bill providing for a five per cent tax on gross receipts of motor carriers came up in the assembly today with the indication that argument on the measure would last until a late hour.

Assemblyman Mathews offered a series of amendments cutting the tax to 2 1/2 per cent payable after deducting all city and county license fees.

Assemblyman Duval declared the amendments merely an effort to kill the bill, but Mathews asserted they were offered in good faith and he considered the 2 1/2 per cent tax an equitable figure.

See Big Fund.
Proponents of the bill said it was estimated that the highway fund would be increased from $750,000 to $1,000,000 annually should the measure pass.

Preceding consideration of the Duval bill the assembly passed a number of minor claims and also a $75,000 special appropriation bill covering legislative printing for this session.

A $5000 appropriation for upkeep of trails in the Angeles National forest was approved.

The assembly had before it today a special appropriation bill for $225,000 to construct a bridge across the Klamath river, Del Norte county.

Seen as Memorial
The measure was introduced by the late Assemblyman G. H. Douglas, and its approval last night by the ways and means committee was largely in the nature of a memorial to the legislator.

The committee also approved a $25,000 appropriation for the coming G. A. R. encampment at Pasadena, as well as some minor bills.
All other appropriation measures were tabled. Last night's meeting was the final one of the season for the lower house finance body.

A bill by Pedrotti giving Los Angeles county five additional superior court judges and one by Kline establishing a Southern California state fair at Riverside, both passed last night by the assembly, were transported to the senate today for upper house consideration.

along the Murmansk coast, scene of the seizures, pointing out that international law does not limit such zones to three miles. Britain, the Russians point out, has a nine mile zone at Ceylon.

LAWYERON STAND AT TRIAL

Counsellor For Royer Is Witness In Big Battle
Over $250,000 Estate

FEDERAL JUDGE SAW DOCUMENT EXECUTED

Effort By Anaheim Man to Adopt Miss Feraud
Is Recounted

Describing in detail the conversations and happenings which led up to the alleged signing of the late General Julian O. Royer's will, the instrument over which the $250,000 contest trial, in department 2 of the superior court here, has been waged for two weeks, Frank M. Wilcox, attorney, today testified for the contestants.

On three different occasions he was called by the general to discuss the will, he said, before it was finally signed in the presence of Federal Judge Benjamin Bledsoe, and Drs. Smith and Tolan.

The first time that the will was mentioned to him, Wilcox said, was at 2 a. m. on the morning of September 11. At that time, the general requested the attorney's presence, saying that he desired to make a will, the witness testified.

"When I arrived there, the general was feeling better," Wilcox said, "and no mention was made of the terms of the will."

"I went there the next day, and he told me what he wanted incorporated in the instrument. He said that he wanted Miss Feraud to have a life interest in 975 shares in the Anaheim Investment company, and that after her death, the property was to go to his grandchildren."

The general owned 1939 of the 1943 shares of stock in the investment company, records had shown.
"The general told me that he had purposely left nothing to his son, Max, nor to his daughter, Mrs.
Walter Amstutz, because he had amply provided for them in his lifetime."

Will Finally Signed
On the next day, Wilcox, at Royer's request, took the will to Judge Bledsoe, for approval, and with minor changes, it was redrafted and signed several days later, according to testimony.

"As I was reading the will to General Royer, just before he signed it, he stopped me, and told me to get 'Sis,' as he called Miss Feraud," Wilcox stated. "When Miss Feraud came into the room,
I finished reading the will, and he signed it."

On one occasion, Royer consulted Judge Bledsoe and Wilcox in an effort to adopt Miss Feraud as his daughter, the attorney said, but because she was legally an adult, this was impossible.

In an effort to impeach the testimony of Thomas McGrath, nurse, who had declared that Miss Fer-aud, on the afternoon of February 15, in a conversation over the telephone, overheard by Attorney W.
E. Anderson, had offered him $2,500 to testify for her, several alibi witnesses were introduced.

No Phone Talk
Like Mrs. Catherine Bledsoe, wife of Judge Bledsoe, they testified that they had been with Miss Feraud all that afternoon, at her home, where they had returned from the funeral of Miss Feraud's niece, at Fullerton, and that Miss Feraud had not spoken over the telephone on that date.

At the resumption of testimony this afternoon, Attorney Wilcox was expected to take the stand again, and to make an effort to impeach McGrath's testimony, regarding an alleged $5,000 bribe, which the nurse declared Wilcox offered him at the Feraud home.

Wilcox was expected to admit conferring with McGrath, but to deny offering any money.

Miss Feraud would leave the room and go upstairs to cry every time that General Royer mentioned making a will, John W.
Wilcox, intimate friend of the deceased, and father of Attorney Frank M. Wilcox, who was connected with the $5,000 bribe charges earlier in the trial, stated.

Will Rarely Mentioned Wilcox, senior, testified that he visited the general "very frequently" during his lifetime, but that only on two occasions did he mention anything pertaining to a will.

"I wish I knew how to leave my will," the general once said.

With two witnesses for the plaintiffs declaring that King Mitchell, truck driver for the Boulevard express, left his truck to go "back and beat up" C. R. Siglin, one of the defendants with whom he had collided a moment before, and that his truck, still in motion, crashed into the car driven by Mrs. Myrtle Lloyd, the $75,000 damage suit, in department 1 of the superior court was still in progress late today.

E. F. Quick, a rancher, who saw the accident, declared that Mitchell had announced to him, his intention of "beating up" Siglin.

The plaintiffs claim that Mitchell left his truck, and that in the accident which followed, Miss Margaret Lloyd, one of the plaintiffs was terribly hurt, and Miss Helen Lloyd and Mrs. Lloyd were less seriously injured.

Attorney H. J. Forgy was sitting as judge pro tem. It was expected that the case would occupy several days more.

Mrs. Lloyd, a pleasant appearing woman, who by her well chosen words and large vocabulary, proclaimed herself a woman of education, told the story of the accident which nearly cost her daughter her life.

Hear Crash.

"We were driving along the boulevard near Tustin," she said, "when we heard a crash, and saw Seigland's car strike the truck, which was in the middle of the highway."

"A second later, it seemed, the truck leaped at us, striking our car in back of the front seat. My daughter had turned the car sharply to the right, or the collision would have been head-on."

"Helen was struck so hard that her feet were driven through the floorboards of the car, and it was necessary to chop the boards away before she could be extricated."

"A few seconds after the crash, I saw King Mitchell, the truck driver, running down the road to where we were."

"My God, look what I've done," he exclaimed.

Mrs. Lloyd testified that Mitchell told someone in the crowd that he had left his truck, after the collision between it and Seigland's car, to go back and "beat up" Seigland. It was the theory of the attorneys for the plaintiffs, that the truck was not stopped when the driver left it, and that it continued, without a driver, until it struck the Lloyd car.

Miss Margaret Lloyd, permanently injured as a result of the crash, according to Dr. Zaiser of the county hospital, was present in court on crutches. Her face was lined with evidences of suffering.

HOW ROYER SIGNED WILL IS RELATED

estate so that my grandchildren would be provided for," Wilcox testified Royer said about eight months before his death. On this occasion, Miss Feraud promptly left the room, an action upon which the general commented.

On another occasion, when General Royer mentioned a will in the presence of Miss Feraud, the latter replied:

"I don't care what you do, but don't leave me with a lot of strings or ropes around my neck."

Wilcox also testified that the general was rational on several occasions during his illness, when the witness saw him.

Antoin Feraud, brother of Miss Feraud, who lived with her in the Royer family, testified as to her relations with the general.

Lives Near Anaheim

He and Miss Feraud came to America in 1902, two years after the Royer family did, and have lived with them ever since.

He now lives on ten acres at Anaheim, deeded to him by Miss Feraud, he testified. He said that the general regarded Miss Feraud as a sister or daughter, and that he often addressed her affectionately in that manner.

In cross-examination, Feraud admitted that his parents did not die until after Royer and his family had come to the United States. This was taken by legal authorities who were watching the trial, as being a victory for the contestants.

Miss Feraud had contended that General Royer adopted the Ferauds in compliance with a death-bed request of their father, a friend of Royer's in France.

Among the property which Boone left were $10,000 in Edison company stock, and a note for $2,000.

AWAIT STRIKE-BREAKERS AT SAN PEDRO

(By United Press Leased Wire) SAN PEDRO, Calif., May 10.—With shipping here virtually at a standstill owing to the marine strike, plans were being made today to house 1,000 strike breakers from San Francisco who will land this afternoon.

Four of the largest steamship lines have placed an embargo in the port and will accept no shipments for it. Inter-coastal vessels are being regularly diverted to San Diego and San Francisco. The lines are the Luckenbach, the Ishman, the Hawaiian American and the Pacific mail.

Congestion is so heavy that boats in the harbor cannot get near a wharf to unload, and would have no one to unload them if they did. About 1200 longshoremen are still at work, but about 2,500 are needed to keep traffic moving.

Shipping will fall off nearly 150,000 tons a month if the strike continues and the reputation of the harbor severely injured, authorities say. The strikers have shown no signs yet of returning to work despite several parleys.

A fire, believed to have been started by the I. W. W., was reported in the Kerchoff Cuzner Lumber yard early today. Quick work by the fire department smothered the flames before they gained great headway.

An attempt was also made during the night to fire a Pacific Electric trestle in the heart of the harbor district. A fire, built up by loose boards, was found burning around the base of several supports. It was extinguished by the fire department with small damage.

DRAMA TOLD BY FIRST SPOUSE OF 'KING'

(By United Press Leased Wire) PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, May 10.—A dramatic story of "how she waited 25 years for "King" Benjamin Purnell, "abdicated" ruler of the House of David, to return to their humble home in Greenup, Kentucky, was related here today by Mrs. Angeline Stephens, Purnell's former wife.

Purnell discovered Mrs. Stephens in Indiana nearly thirty years ago after he had become enamored of Mary Stallard, Mrs. Stephens' charge.

"I always thought Ben would come back to me," she said today. "I waited 25 years. Then two years ago I married again."

"Ben didn't have any unusual ideas about religion when he lived with me."

Mrs. Stephens said she did not remember the grounds of their divorce, but she was certain Benjamin's religion had nothing to do with it.

Ben drove a huckster wagon in Greenup.

"Mary was a flapper in her day," Mrs. Stephens said, "and I think she just vamped Ben away from me."

Mary Stallard, according to Mrs. Stephens, is "King" Benjamin's present wife, "Queen" Mary of the Benton Harbor colony.

Several times after the divorce and before the Benton Harbor cult was started Purnell returned to visit his former wife, she said.

"Every time he came back I thought he was going to stay. Once I remember he got up and left in the middle of the night."

Sidelights On What Is Occupying Minds And Time of Solons

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 10.—Discussion of the possibility of yet passing a reapportionment measure was heard around the capitol today, following announcement of a message from Governor Richardson urging that legislators obey the constitution in this regard. The executive declared that while he would call no extra session to consider reapportionment, still it is the "plain duty" of members to reapportion the legislative districts. A bill is now in the senate similar to the Baker reapportionment measure, defeated last week in the assembly. Passage of this upper house bill will be urged, in compliance with the governor's desire, it was announced.

Awaiting action in the assembly today is the Jones purity of elections bill, which passed the senate by a vote of 22 to 3 late yesterday. The measure prescribes fines and jail sentences for those who fail to report campaign expenses. It grew out of an extensive investigation made by a committee headed by Senator Jones.

The assembly late yesterday refused to withdraw from the public charities and correction committee and refer to the ways and means committee the Veller bill to repeal a $200,000 appropriation for the Pacific colony near Pomona and turn it into the general fund.

Women Considering National Problems

ATLANTA, Ga., May 10.—Educational problems were taken up by the general Federation of Women's Clubs in biennial council session here.

Formal discussions on illiteracy, rural education and home education were held by the delegates under the direction of Mrs. John D. Sherman, Estes Park, Colorado. A program of legislation, for betterment of educational conditions, will probably result from the conferences.

SALVATION ARMY HALL FIRE SCENE

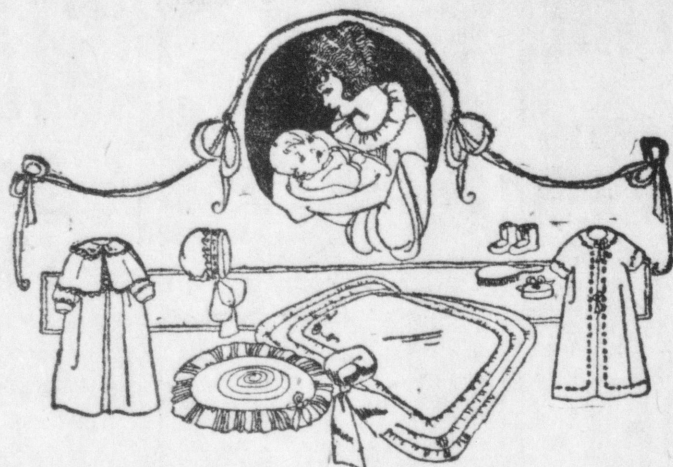

Great excitement prevailed among tenants of offices in The Register building just before noon today, when smoke from a fire in the Salvation Army structure on the lot adjoining the building curled through the office windows and filled the corridors.

One tenant was seen hurriedly departing with a carpet sweeper tucked under his arm. The old

—By J. G. Kelly, D. C.—

When you are sick, do you know the reason WHY?

Some say germs, loss of sleep, improper food, worry, overwork, and various other so-called reasons are offered. Isn't it funny, when we stop to think about it, that we are like monkeys—just repeat and imitate?

What is it that causes you to be sick? Isn't it because some part of your body fails to work as it should. When we consider that every organ in the body is dependent upon NERVE ENERGY, isn't it easy to understand how pressure on spinal nerves cutting off the flow of this nerve energy, will affect the organ involved and cause sickness?

And isn't it just as easy to understand how the removal of this pressure will restore the full flow of nerve energy, allowing the sick organ to again do its work as nature intended?

This common-sense idea of the CAUSE of sickness and its correction, is what has made Chiropractic famous. If you would know more about this better way to health, visit my office and I will be glad to explain more fully, and if desired I will give you a free spinal analysis and tell you frankly what I can do for you.

URGE CONGRESS PASS BOULDER DAM BILL

Approximately seventy-five men, representatives of various municipalities in Southern California, at Fullerton this afternoon discussed plans for urging congress to act favorably on the Boulder dam building project.

The meeting was called by Mayor Bacon, of San Diego, who is president of the southern section of the California League of Municipalities.

Beginning with a luncheon at Odd Fellows hall at 12 m., the men went into conference at 1:30 p. m., with Congressman Phil D. Swing presenting features of the situation now obtaining with reference to the big project.

According to Bacon, conditions in connection with deferred construction of the Boulder canyon dam has reached such a stage that some definite planning is necessary before Congress meets.

It is understood that plans are being developed to present to congress in December a program that will provide for repayment to the federal government of the entire cost of the dam through the allocation of electric power and rights to cities and communities in the Southwest.

The Santa Ana High School band, under the direction of S. J. Mustol, will offer the following program at KFAW, The Register's broadcasting station, tonight from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock:

- 2—Overture, "Norma."
- 3—Prison Scene From "Il Trovatore," Norman Hicks, cornet; Jack Langley, baritone.
- 4—Grand Medley, "Southern Melodies."
- 5—"Lustspiel," Overture.
- 6—"The Star Spangled Banner."

HIGH SCHOOL BAND TO GIVE AIR BILL

ASTORIA, Ore., May 9.—The first week of the salmon fishing season on the Lower Columbia, which opened May 1, finds not less than 2000 gill net boats, each containing two men, fishing the early run.

In addition to the gill netters, practically every trap is in operation, and a number of seining grounds are being prepared for fishing. More buyers are here bidding for this year's catch than ever before, and fish prices are the highest in history. The high prices being offered for salmon for canning purposes will tend to greatly reduce the quantity of mild cured pickled salmon to be packed this season.

tives at Yosemite beginning Monday, May 14.

One-day tractor schools are scheduled to be held in the county May 25, 26, 28 and 29, according to plans of W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor. The school will be held at Tustin, at the V. V. Tubbs' ranch, May 25; at Villa Park, May 26; at the Allen Brothers' ranch, Garden Grove, May 28, and at La Habra, May 29, Cory said.

June brides had better come and see what pretty things we have this season. Then they can give their friends the proper tips. Goff's, 317 West 4th.

Oregon Auto Parks Are Busy Once More

PORTLAND, Ore., May 9.—The spring drive of eastern automobile tourists is on. Every day the municipal camping ground at Peninsula park now receives its scores of cars with license plates from every state. These are the vanguards of the migrators whose backs are bowed by shoveling snow off the walks and coal into the furnaces all winter.

The "auto hobo" is here, in a 1914 Ford, his equipment a tin can and a blanket. Westward he treks during the winter, then northward with the geese in the spring. A little work—a very little—here and there keeps him in grub and gasoline, and to the families on the line, and to the many, the "auto hobo" is a veritable traveling map and Baedeker.

ENTERTAINMENT TO BE GIVEN AT OLIVE

Eight hundred pounds of barbecue, with welters held in reserve, and a valuable lot given away absolutely free. What do you think of that?

This is the promise of the energetic little city of Olive to its visitors at the celebration to be held at that place tomorrow afternoon and evening. The Orange Community Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the affair, ably aided by the Olive Improvement association, the dances in the evening, however, to be handled entirely by the latter organization. The following is the complete program for the day:

- 3:30 to 4:00, Band concert, Anaheim high school band.
- 4:00 to 4:45, Professional vaudeville from Yost theater, interspersed with band music.
- 4:45 to 5:00, Esthetic dances—Miss Sally and Dorothy Coe of the Orange grade school.
- 5:00 to 6:30, Free barbecue dinner.
- 6:30, Free gift of a residence lot in Olive.
- 6:30 to 8:00, Radio concert by Earl Cossairt, interspersed with music by jazz band of Orange union high school.
- 8:00 to 12:00, dance at Olive hall, tickets $1 per couple.

In connection with the barbecue hot coffee will be supplied. People should bring their own cups.

Helium Atoms Can Be Pictured Claim

Chicago, May 9.—A motion picture machine to take photographs of alpha rays, or helium atoms in flight, has been constructed by Professor William Draper Harkins of the University of Chicago, it was announced today.

The camera exposes the film from two angles and gives a double record of the action of the atom as it tears through air. Among the first results from the new machine is a picture showing what is believed to be the destruction of the nitrogen atom by a particle of flying helium.

Nitrogen, oxygen, carbon lithium and several other elements formerly believed to be complete substances have been shown to be made of simpler substances, according to Professor Harkins. Three elements enter into their construction, hydrogen, helium and electricity.

It also appears that helium is not a simple element, but is made up of three or four atoms of hydrogen very tightly bound together and accompanied by two electrons or negative electricity substances, Harkins said.

BURNS COMES, ARRESTS JUMP

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—William J. Burns, director of the department of justice, recently came to town. That week from Wednesday to Friday in 48 hours, there were 31 persons booked as drunks, two of them women. In one seven-hour period there were eight arrests for drunkenness and none for any other cause. Whether William J. can be blamed or not is not proven, but toppers would just as soon he didn't come any more if that is the effect he has!

HOT WEATHER ---Reporting---

GOSSIP OF THE CITY (BY TOM LEWIS)

Warm weather and legal phraseology will not worry Clyde Bishop, popular Santa Ana attorney, for the next month or so.

Bishop, who probably works harder than any lawyer in Southern California, is going to forget legal terms and give himself over to full enjoyment of the great outdoors.

If all goes well, Bishop will leave tomorrow for the Pacific Northwest. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Bishop and two Santa Ana friends. They will motor to Vancouver, B. C., and will be absent several weeks.

Louis Byers is a construction foreman, but even a construction foreman has his troubles.

For several weeks, Byers has been wrestling with a knotty problem. This problem concerns the old vault in the Farmers and Merchants' bank, Fourth and Main streets. Dynamite and steel drills have been used without stint, but the ribbed-steel walls still stand.

"I've said it once and I'll say it again," declared the foreman, "This old vault is as solid as the rock of Gibraltar. And the end is not yet in sight."

"We hear many comments," said Col. S. H. Finley, member of the Orange county board of supervisors, "on the beauty of that portion of the new Hall of Records already erected. The structure will be even more beautiful when it is finished."

In this connection, it was learned that the Hall of Records will probably be finished and ready for occupancy by January 1, 1924. What will be the effect of the changes thus necessitated?

Well, in the first place, Joe Backs, affable county clerk, is going to have more room in which to conduct his steadily increasing business. They're going to chase out the supervisory board and give Joe that room. But what of the supervisors—where will they deliberate?

The supervisors will occupy the quarters now held by the county auditor. But that will put W. C. Jerome and his staff on the run? Exactly. And Jerome and his staff, in turn, will camp on the trail of Miss Justine Whitney, county recorder. Then, what becomes of the county recorder?

The county recorder will have no kick coming. Miss Whitney said her associates will be snugly located in a bright and commodious office in the new Hall of Records. But they will not be alone in their glory.

R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, A. A. Brock, county horticultural commissioner, and other county officials will also have offices in the new building. And the county library will be located therein, as will the probation officer, the county engineer and others. The tax collector will be there, too.

Speaking of hot weather and vacations, they say the jolly little trout are biting high, wide and handsome in the Southern California streams these balmy days.

According to Elmer Preston, of Livesey's sporting goods store, many Santa Ana and Orange county sportsmen have hit the long, long trail. Victor Walker tells a similar story.

It is said that the fishin' is so good in the Trabuco, in the Santiago, and around Big Bear that local sporting goods stores have done an unprecedented business this spring. One store had to send to Los Angeles for fresh supplies to meet the demand.

"Yes, I know, but where do we fish?" asks the ambitious angler. Well, as for that, take your choice. The wise ones say they are catching first-class Rainbow trout in the Trabuco, in the Santiago, and up around Big Bear. They're using spinners at Big Bear. Nearer home, around Trabuco and Santiago, they use some salmon eggs. Many claim they got the limit—and that they weighed from a pound to six, seven and eight pounds. Mmm! Mmm! Let's go.

Pity the poor bankers. Dean Collier of the Farmers and Merchants' bank, says the workers are so busy counting money they will not be able to take their vacations for a long, long time. Well, that's a sign of prosperity, at that. And even the bankers will catch up after awhile, Dean says. After the close of the interest period, in a month or two, the rush will abate somewhat. Then the bankers will oil up the old flivver and fly away.

But George Spangler, genial blacksmith, and Gavy Cravath, king of sportsmen, will not be in a hurry to tie themselves to the far distant reaches. 'Tis whispered about the main stem that George and Gavy are going to shoulder their muskets and stalk the big game late in the fall. Unless all signs fall they, and several others, will make Flagstaff, Ariz., their objective and bunk with Spangler's brother-in-law, W. H. Cox, extensive cattle raiser.

"The great summer rush is on," said L. A. Ludwig, amiable custodian of the Santa Ana park, discussing the increase in the number of cars registered at the North Main street camp grounds.

"During the past few days we have had cars from Northern California, from Nevada, Utah, Kansas and other states. Twenty-three out-of-town cars registered last night. We are making plans to take care of hundreds of cars this summer."

TRACTOR KILLS FARMER. MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa, May 9.—While coupling a tractor to a disc at his farm today, Austin O. Wiley, 37, well-known farmer, was crushed to death when the tractor backed across his body.

ALMOND RECORD CLAIMED. PASO ROBLES, Cal., May 10.—San Luis Obispo county, the Paso Robles district, leads the state in total acreage of almond orchards, according to the report of the California Almond Growers' exchange. Yolo county leads in bearing orchards, with a total of 6000 acres, while San Luis leads in non-bearing trees, 22,013 acres. There are more than 1000,000 acres of almond orchard in the state, the report says.

DOCTORS ADVISE PORT WINE AND OLIVE OIL

A prominent physician in an interview today says if the public only knew the tonic value of port wine and olive oil they would quickly regain their health.

Port wine is a combination of rich cream, olive oil and rare old port wine scientifically blended with other medicinal agents.

It quickly restores tired out, run-down systems, is especially valuable in anemic and all wasting diseases, increases weight and strength.

Start today taking Port Olive, nature's food tonic, and see how quickly you improve. On sale at C. S. Kelley and all druggists. The Port Olive Co., 215 S. Broadway, Los Angeles—adv.

GOOD YEAR
"Los Angeles Made For Western Trade"

PLAYERS CLUB ENDS SEASON THIS WEEK

After a beginning with a garage for a playhouse and borrowed lights from the old Laguna pageant for illumination, the Laguna Beach community players will crown their first year's work with the closing performance of three plays, Friday and Saturday next at which time Santa Ana players will be guests, according to Madam Ann Dare, director, who guided the players club through a very successful season. Madam Dare, who has been offered the post of director again, was in Santa Ana yesterday.

Plays are Given

The plays selected are "The Bank Account," an ancient Chinese play especially adapted by Madam Dare, and "The Sunny Quinteros of Spain." In the Spanish play will be seen the president and secretary of the club, E. E. Jahraus and Alice Wakelee, in the main roles with Victor De Llymas and Mrs. Vernon Murphy also in the cast.

It is considered unique by all who have studied the play that such a production as the Chinese play could be produced at Laguna Beach. Dating back to the Ming dynasty, some four centuries ago, the dance centers around the Empress Ti than whom there was none more beautiful.

In order to bring about her overthrow even her enemies on approaching, had to raise the great sleeve to hide their faces from her intense beauty to which all men succumbed if they stared openly. The dance is to be done by Katherine Strode. Madam Dare's costumes, which she has loaned the players, have never been employed before on any American stage with the exception of her own company of Chinese players in San Francisco.

Madam Dare explained that the beauty and art of the Ming period depended largely upon the skillful use of three colors, orange, violet, green. Modern artists have strived to reproduce these matchless tints but have failed, she said. The Laguna Beach players have secured the effect of the colors by tinted lights and the oriental effect will be further accentuated by the rhythm of line and color.

Friday night a number of Santa Ana school players will visit Laguna to see "The Bank Account," as they are producing it later. They will also inspect the model of the $6000 Community Club House including a fully equipped theater which it is hoped will be constructed in time to be used around September 1.

Invitations have been sent out by Miss Alice Parker of the Tea and Tiffin with Mr. Van Altman who decorated it, to forty of the Santa Ana Community players and all players who have been in Ann Dare's cast during the season to a supper-dance after the Saturday evening's plays, thus closing the season in a royal fashion.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, May 10.—Streets have been graded in the McCoy subdivision, and a cement sidewalk will be put in as soon as the telephone company move their poles which stand in the way.

Richard Nankervis, senior, who has been sick in Los Angeles, following a stroke of paralysis at the home of his son Richard, is reported better and able to be up. His daughter, Mrs. Carrie Oleson who has cared for him, visited friends here this week. He is so much better that she will be able to take up her work again.

Ellsworth Skinner and family moved to Los Angeles Friday, he having been transferred from Huntington Beach where he worked for an oil company to Culver City where he will be employed by the same company.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edwards and daughter Nettie, of Elsinore, visited here and at Buena Park several days last week going from here home, on Monday.

Mrs. H. Pope of Long Beach, came Tuesday for a few days visit with her daughter Mrs. J. H. Walton.

W. A. Taylor who was operated on for the removal of his tonsils in Hemet about two weeks ago returned from there Friday, suffering a relapse from hemorrhoids and was seriously ill Saturday. He is in care of a trained nurse and is improving. His brothers, Monroe Taylor, of Hemet and George and Otis Taylor, of Huntington Beach, visited him Saturday, also Mrs. Taylor's father, Robert McClintock, of Los Angeles. A number of oil workers who have been rooming at the hotel, have left this week for Taft, owing to the shutting down of wells from over production, in Huntington Beach. For the same reason there has been only one train of oil tank cars a day for the past week or more, passing through this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks of Los Angeles were guests Sunday of Mrs. Addie Blakey and Miss Leora Blakey. Mrs. Fairbanks who is a cousin, remained until Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stoves and Miss Opal Stoves moved to Monterey Saturday where they visited relatives, returning Sunday. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Stoves' sister-in-law, Mrs. Lincoln Collins and daughter, Grace, for a week's visit.

Miss Bertha Hazard is convalescing after being quiet with the measles at the home of Mrs. Phil McClintock. Little Howard McClintock who also had the measles last week is also improving.

Allen Baker, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Baker, has been having the measles.

Just the right things for show-ers. Goff's.

VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, May 10.—Saturday evening a party of young people, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Ward Starkey and Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hanselman, attended a dance at West Newport.

Mrs. R. F. Reich entertained friends and relatives one afternoon recently in honor of Mrs. R. O. Dubois of Centralia, Wash., and Mrs. Jennie Chase of Kalamazoo, Mich. Those present were Mrs. S. DuBois, Mrs. Walter Lamb, Mrs. Edward Squires and daughter of Santa Ana, Mrs. John Gup-till of Garden Grove, Mrs. Will Chase, Miss Grace Chase of Orange, Mrs. DuBois, Mrs. Jennie Chase, Misses Bernice and Lena Reich.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Robinson, sons Vera, Durand and Glen, Mr. and Mrs. N. V. Raney, daughters Laura, Edna and Leora with Mr. and Mrs. Carlin of Orange spent Sunday at Warner's Hot Springs. Mrs. Songer and Victor Raney accompanied the party to Corona where they spent the day with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kauth and daughters spent Sunday up Trabuco canyon. Mrs. E. Lee and Miss Elizabeth Lee entertained a party of friends in honor of Myron Smith, little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Smith of San Juan Capistrano. It being his first birthday anniversary.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith and Myron, Mr. and Mrs. Juan Capistrano, Mrs. Retha Amie and daughter, Miss Wanda, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wynn and daughter Pearl, and Silas Cambria Cavotte, all of Long Beach. Mrs. Lee, Miss Elizabeth Lee and Grace Ellen Lee.

In the afternoon the younger members of the party drove to the county park.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morningstar were afternoon callers.

Mr. and Mrs. Linn O. Hanselman and children with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Carriker had a picnic dinner at the dam on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Adams and children of Los Angeles came down Saturday night to spend Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Adams and babies drove up the canyon to Modjeska's and returned by way of Trabuco.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Genewell spent part of Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Vincent at Norwalk and the rest of the day in Los Angeles.

Among those spending the day at the county park were Paul Robinson, Alfred Stein, Albert Bruckner and Bert Padias.

Personals

Donald C. Gilbert, a mining engineer at Kingman, Arizona, has been spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy J. Gilbert after having delivered $40,000 in gold bullion to the mint at San Francisco.

Accompanied by his cousin, Bert Housler of Emporium, Penna., C. M. Lewis of Long Beach visited relatives in this city earlier in the week.

Parent-Teachers

Election of officers together with an entertaining program and cooling refreshments will combine to offer attraction to all fathers and mothers of the McKinley school district who are expected to attend the final P.T.A. session of the year at the school kindergarten tomorrow night.

The program will begin at 7:30 and in view of the fact that "Fathers' night" will be featured, it, like the menu will offer many excellent things.

Maccabees

Friday afternoon, May 11 at 2:30 will be held the stated session of the Women's Benefit association of the Maccabees at M. W. A. hall.

Athletic Club

When the Business Girls' Athletic club meets tonight at the appointed time and place, (7:30 at the high school gymnasium) members will complete plans for next Monday night's plunge party at Huntington Beach, which will take the place of the usual session.

According to present arrangements, the club as a unit will leave the gym at 6:30 Monday evening, members having automobiles to furnish transportation. In addition to the pleasure offered by swimming, will be the welter bake and marsh-mallow roast on the beach.

She Feels So Good Since She Began Taking
Dr. Carey's Marshroot
Prescription for Kidney and Bladder

Read this extract from a very remarkable letter: "My mother suffered so much from kidney trouble, her body being so swollen she could hardly breathe. Her legs and feet were as large as three legs and they were so hot and burned so she kept them all summer in a pan of water. We read in a newspaper how good Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription was and got her a bottle. She soon began to get better and went down to her own size. Her legs went down too. She feels so good when she takes it. Her skin was so yellow but since she has taken Marshroot she is so white and looks so much better. We are all taken up with Marshroot for it has saved our mother's life, for her doctor said nothing could be done for her. She was 62 years old and was so filled up with water." (Mrs. S. C. Name and address on request). Countless pages might be written regarding the wonderful merits of this remarkable prescription to which thousands—who are now living and enjoying perfect health which they owe to the use of this great remedy—can testify. C. S. Kelley Drug Store and all good druggists can supply you. Mail orders accepted.—Adv.

SEA ADVENTURE BOOK POPULAR AT LIBRARY

"Fourteen Years a Sailor," written by John Kenlon, chief of the fire department of New York city, promises to be one of the most popular books recently added to the shelves of the Santa Ana Public Library, according to Miss Jeannette McFadden, librarian.

As a boy of 15, Kenlon took to the sea, first on a small ship and then on deep sea vessels. According to the publisher's notices the book is a story of danger, courage and adventure.

Some of the recently added books, with brief comments about each, follow:

"The Coming of the Fairies," by A. Conan Doyle. He says, "The incidents set forth represent either the most elaborate and ingenious hoax, ever played upon the public, or else they constitute an event in human history." It contains actual photographs of dancing goblins, elves and fairies, as well as evidence in connection with them.

"In the Neighborhood of Murry Hill," by Robert Cortes Holliday. "World's Best Humorous Anecdotes," by J. G. Lawson, is a collection of 1508 of the best anecdotes, covering nearly every subject. There are many dialect stories also.

Livingston's Last Trip
"Back to the Long Grass," by Dan Crawford, is based on the last journey of David Livingston. Full of information about the African tribes and country.

"Legends of San Francisco," by Caldwell. "The Trail of the Rugged Robin," by Flora Klickman, is an account of a spring holiday spent at the flower-patch in the Wye valley.

"The Shepherd and Other Poems of Peace and Plenty," by Edmund Blunden. Poems of the English countryside given in a clear and musical tone.

"The Essence of Religion," by Borden P. Browne, gives the point of view of a clear thinker who wishes to show that the essence of religion is practical rather than theoretical.

"Chile and Argentina," by Frank G. Carpenter. In this book we go over nearly every foot of these two South American republics. We see many new and fascinating things, and feel that a new world has been opened up.

"Wild Animal Homesteads," by

Enos A. Mills. Many strange and unusual facts are brought out in this book. For instance, we are told that the beaver takes a three month's vacation away from home that wild animals homestead plots of land just as we humans, and that the grizzly is afraid of nothing but a skunk.

Whaling Vessel Voyage
"From the Deep of the Sea," by C. E. Smith, is a real diary of a year's voyage on a whaling vessel. A moving record of hardships and heroism.

"Understanding Italy," by C. S. Cooper, deals with the Italy of the last half century, the Italy which has fallen under the sway of Mussolini and the Fascists.

"Ambling Through Acadia," by C. H. Towns, concerns three men who jog through the land of Evangeline, forgetting everything but the charm of the country. A delightful book.

"The Social Revolution in Mexico," by Ed A. Ross. Mexico reported and interpreted by a keen student of people. Prof. Ross went to Mexico convinced that revolutions didn't pay, but he came back convinced that Mexico's revolution did pay.

"The Bungalow Book," by Chas. E. White Jr., is a practical manual covering every detail of construction from the frame to the plumbing and painting.

"First Steps in Golf," by C. S. Brown.

COTTON MILL GETS PUSH BY REALTORS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 10.—The Huntington Beach Realty Board held its regular meeting in the office of Walter Tubach and took up the discussion of financing a cotton mill.

President Charles P. Patton, who also is president of the Chamber of Commerce, was absent. J. A. Amittage was named temporary president. A. B. Green, who has been here for the past four weeks in the interest of the California-Pacific Textiles, gave an outline of the plans of the company, stating it is the intention of the concern to buy the five acres of land formerly used as a ball park at First and Ocean, which would cost about $15,000.

The building is to cost $150,000, machinery $325,436 and about $300,000 for a humidifier plant, engine house and boilers, including an electric generating plant. It is the intention of the company to use the cheap fuel oil and generate its own electricity. The entire investment will be over $650,000. Coarse fabrics will be made for tire manufacture and other heavy goods, such as duck for tents. The plant would use the best cotton raised in the Imperial Valley. At first the mill will install 16,000 spindles and employ about 1000 people with a payroll of about $30,000 per week. Experts have been employed from eastern mills who will be brought here.

After some discussion as to the best method to adopt for raising approximately $125,000 as the quota stock of the concern which Huntington Beach should buy, it was decided to select captains and have competing teams make a drive.

Lynn H. Colburn, oil magnate and proprietor of Huntington Inn, was the first captain and W. I. Clapp, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the second.

Formal Opening Of Yachting Season

Opening with boat inspection in the afternoon, the 1923 yachting season will be formally inaugurated by the Newport Harbor Yacht club, Saturday, May 19.

Plans are being completed for one of the pleasantest social events in the club's history—the opening ball that night when the clubhouse will resound with gayety. Dancing will begin at 8:30 and it is probable that many dinner parties will precede the affair.

Showers of Blessings. Oh, girls buy your shower gifts here. Up to the minute and cheaper. Goff's. 317 W. 4th.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.—Adv.

Day Nursery Needs Are Set Forth By Matron

The Day nursery is a busy place these days. Preparations for moving to the attractive new home of the Ebell project, are under way and as the date draws near, realization has come to Mrs. A. H. Taylor, matron in charge, that many little things are needed for the new home.

Daily the nursery telephone rings as kindly disposed persons call to offer aid in any manner possible. So Mrs. Taylor today mentioned a list of matters needing attention.

What is a spring cleaning without fresh paint? And the moving into new quarters will partake of the nature of a spring cleaning.

There are many little white iron beds which have seen constant use since the nursery opened. These are in sad need of fresh white paint. Who will furnish paint and labor?

Where, too, are those generous folk who will add to the supply of children's white iron beds? These are badly needed.

Still dealing in painter's supplies, the kitchen and pantry of the new home need re-tinting. Who will volunteer? Who will paint the back porch and three bedroom floors? Who will add an electric light bulb and globes to the much-needed dozen?

Who will give four-and-a-half yards of white table oil-cloth so that tiny little children will have a tidy luncheon table? Who will give new cooking utensils of any kind and who, oh who, will bestow that indispensable thing where there are little children, a refrigerator?

These will be some of the needs of the Day nursery. Who is he that will satisfy these needs?

W. C. T. U.

Santa Ana W. C. T. U. held a very pleasant meeting Tuesday afternoon at the beautiful mission home of Mrs. W. B. Tedford, 2003 North Broadway. The rooms, made bright and cheerful with many flowers, were filled with members and friends of the W. C. T. U., nearly fifty being present. Mrs. E. P. Stafford led a splendid devotional along the line of the subject for the afternoon, "Our Young People."

The union was gladdened by a very generous gift, the yearly income from a substantial amount given by one of Santa Ana's citizens, N. H. Leonard, in honor of his mother and to be known as "Laura Leonard Foundation." It will be used in the county for the fight against narcotics and especially tobacco and cigarettes. Incorporation papers were drawn up by S. M. Davis. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard were present and each spoke a few words. A sincere vote of thanks was given Mr. and Mrs. Leonard.

It was voted to endorse the movement of having a city nurse. Mrs. Estella Harper, county president, was a guest at the meeting and spoke on important matters concerning the work. Mrs. Tedford led a symposium on "Our Boys" and Mrs. Iva M. Webber of the junior high school had the subject of "Girls." Her talk brought out some very difficult problems for parents to keep pace with in this fast age we are living.

Mrs. Webber made a plea for Christian homes for our children and that they might receive religious training.

Delegates to the state convention to be held in Ventura May 22 to 25 were elected as follows: Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, Mrs. Theo. W. Ward, Mrs. Anna Scott, Mrs. N. H. Leonard, Mrs. W. H. Thomas, Mrs. J. N. Osborne, Mrs. May Crisman and Mrs. F. W. Wager. Other delegates by virtue of their office are Mrs. J. H. Nickleson, Mrs. Lea Warren, Mrs. J. N. Anderson and Mrs. J. H. Scott.

A committee composed of Mrs. Webber, Mrs. Tedford and Mrs. Leah was appointed to work with the board of education to see that students leading to the high school were better lighted.

At the close of the meeting a very enjoyable social hour was held. Mrs. Tedford served delicious fruit and wafers, and all enjoyed the hospitality offered in the beautiful home.

Engagement Gifts Fall To Fortunate Lot of "Double L" Maid

The recently announced engagement of Miss Lillian Lykke to Carl Edgar offered incentive for a most delightful affair Tuesday night when Miss Marguerite Galbraith entertained the members of the Double L club at a miscellaneous shower, honoring the bride-elect.

With all details of the affair kept secret, Miss Lykke was unaware that it possessed features different from the usual bi-monthly session of the merry little thimble club, until the refreshment hour when guests found their places at the rose-garlanded table by means of pretty cards representing umbrellas and each containing a gay wish in verse for the honoree.

Added to that was the fact that in seating herself, Miss Lykke's foot struck a basket hidden under the table. Instructed to draw it forth, she found it filled with beautiful gifts ranging from dainty hand embroideries to fine champagne glasses. Even tiny Jean Eleanor Van de Walker, baby daughter of Mrs. Haven Van de Walker, was represented and her dainty gift was one of the most appreciated of those received.

Club members who showered such lovely things on the bride-elect, were, in addition to the hostess, Miss Galbraith, Mrs. Haven Van de Walker, Mrs. Ansel Nordeen, the Misses Elsie Williams, Emma Douglas, Ruth Robinson, Eleanor Loeschner, Jennie Pollard and Nora Lykke.

Missionary Society

A most interesting meeting of the Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. W. B. Mrs. Roberts read the thirty-fifth chapter of Isaiah, and applied the verses read to the condition of "Latin America," the subject for

PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, May 10.—Mrs. Arthur Slayley was a charming hostess to the members of the Placentia section of the Fullerton chapter of the Delphian club at her pretty home on Placentia avenue, where she entertained at a luncheon Monday at 12:30 o'clock. There were sixteen present. In the afternoon the club held their regular meeting.

The Placentia Bible class met Monday evening for their regular monthly social gathering, and enjoyed an evening of music furnished by the Immanuel Male quartet of Los Angeles. Those four young men have sung before the Bible class many times, and always find a full house.

The meeting was opened by singing led by the song leader, Howard Gerome. A social hour was enjoyed while the hostesses, Mrs. Mary Key, Mrs. R. F. Skiles, Mrs. Mackey, Mrs. Grover Mordock, Mrs. E. L. Mogridge and Mrs. Howard Gerome, served coffee and cake.

Youth Hailed as Hero
After Rescue at Sea

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., May 10.—Bernard Coane, Santa Barbara youth, is being hailed as a hero here today because of his daring rescue of a girl and three other boys companions when their skiff turned over before a 60-mile gale in a raging sea.

Coane fought his way through the waves to shore, carrying one of the other boys with him and then used his remaining strength to sprint for the nearest boat available. After a three-hour search the girl and two remaining boys were found clinging to the overturned boat and were brought safely ashore.

five were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora W. Little and Mrs. Drucilla Stayley were at Balboa Saturday enjoying the ocean breezes.

Mrs. James Cohoe spent the week-end in Fullerton, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Barbara Carrow of Pomona avenue.

Friends of Benjamin Baldwin, who with his wife spent the winter here the guests of their son, Clinton Baldwin, will regret to learn that since arriving home a month ago has suffered a stroke of paralysis and is confined to his bed in his home in Indiana.

Miss Williametta Preston of Los Angeles, spent the week-end at the home of her friends, Mrs. W. W. Blackmer and Miss Ada Studevant on Kraemer avenue.

Mrs. Lenora Barnhill of Los Angeles returned Tuesday after spending the week-end and Monday visiting her friends, Mrs. E. Payton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Fuller.

Misses Melba and Ruth Ferguson and their brother, Harold Ferguson were luncheon guests of Mrs. Mary F. Key and Miss Margaret Key on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Stamps of Hollywood were guests of their cousin, Mrs. Drucilla Stayley on Sunday.

Mrs. Drucilla Stayley entertained Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Teague at luncheon on Monday.

STOCKTON, May 10.—A three-cornered race for president of the Mothers' and Parent Teachers' association stirred up a lively interest in today's closing session. The nominees are Mrs. H. R. Archibald, Pasadena, Mrs. Charles F. Gray, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Hugh Bradford, Sacramento.

Establishment of a better film department; vote to incorporate into a state organization, and adoption of resolutions kept the delegates busy until late last night.

Among the resolutions adopted: Opposing any change in the immigration laws as calculated to bring a burden on taxpayers and teachers to Americanize illiterate foreigners.

Upholding President Harding's action in withdrawing troops from Europe and his stand against war. Denouncing newspapers for giving publicity to immoral conduct, murders and keeping the war spirit alive.

Protesting against open trials for juvenile delinquents.

OVER HALF WORLD'S COTTON IN NATION

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The United States had more than half the world's available cotton supply on hand April 1, according to figures given out today by the commerce department.

On that date, American cotton stocks totaled 6,039,000 bales and the world's total 12,010,000 bales. American production of commercial cotton in 1922-23 totaled 15,060,000 bales, while the entire world's output was 27,291,000.

During eight months ending April 1, American cotton consumption was 9,021,000 bales and world consumption 15,281,000.

Wintersburg, Smeltzer

WINTERSBURG AND SMOELTZER, May 10.—Mrs. Eckles, principal of the Springdale school was called Thursday to the bedside of her father to whom death came soon after at his home in Los Angeles.

The school was closed for the day Saturday as a result of Mrs. Eckles' absence and on Monday Miss Bolt, teacher of the primary department took charge of both rooms for the day.

The C. H. Madduxes were among local people who attended the Resurrection day parade and races.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Graham and son and Mr. and Mrs. John Graham saw the parade and junk race staged Saturday by the American Legion.

Plans for graduation and preparations for the program are steadily going forward at Springdale school. The Community hall at Wintersburg will be the scene of the graduation exercises but a definite date has not so far been decided on.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Crane, daughters, Mrs. Arthur Giesler and Miss Florete Crane, son, S. J. Crane, Allan Giesler and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham and son, Alvin spent Sunday at Santa Monica where they were guests of Mrs. Crane's uncle, John Cline.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Chapman had splendid luck Friday night when they went on a fishing trip to Los Patos and captured 200 grunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Graham and son Claude Jr. made an early start Monday morning for their home on Webb Island, near Stockton. Mrs. Graham has been visiting here the past month and Mr. Graham for the past ten days. They expected to reach their destination about noon Tuesday.

The E. Ray Moores had a successful grunion hunt one evening recently. The fish were running well and they returned home with two hundred of them.

The return of Mrs. S. T. Burgess, who for many years was a local resident of the west of Wintersburg section is expected in at any time by local friends who have received late communications from her to that effect.

Mrs. Burgess left for Oklahoma a year ago last September, soon after the death of her husband, and has since been at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hetty Milligan, who resides at Ponkawa, Okla. Mrs. Burgess after a visit with relatives and friends here and elsewhere in the state will eventually locate in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Graham and son Claude Graham, wife and son drove to Puente on Thursday where they spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lyons, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Graham.

Miss Jessie House left Saturday from the C. H. Maddux home where she has been the guest of her aunt for the past two weeks going as far as Anaheim with her cousin, Loren Maddux. Later she went to her home at Santa Paula accompanied by a sister and brother-in-law who are of Anaheim.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dilley are again able to be about the house. For two weeks both were confined to their beds and for a time last week both were very ill and under a physician's care.

Dorothy Dimock was on the sick list Saturday.

William Blaylock who has been ill for a couple of weeks continues running some temperature each day and is yet unable to return to the school room.

Arthur Murdy and Charles Blaylock of this place and Ben Heron of Huntington Beach enjoyed a week-end camping trip in Silverado canyon. The party motored to the mountains Saturday, returning Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Houser visited Sunday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Carolyn Nankervis at Westminster where her sister Mrs. Carrie Oleson of Los Angeles was a guest.

The Misses Frances and Julianne Blaylock spent the week end in

"Suffered Rheumatic Torture for Years,"

Now Restored to Perfect Health

Read What J. C. Jones, of Winchester, Ky., Has To Say About ALLENRHU, the Sure Conqueror of Rheumatism.

"For years I was a sufferer from the torture of rheumatism. My limbs (feet and hands) would swell to almost double their normal size. I suffered intense pain day and night so that I could hardly eat or sleep. I had very little hope of ever recovering from this most dreadful and painful disease. A friend of mine seeing how despondent I was over my hopeless condition advised me to try ALLENRHU. I went immediately to the George Drug Company in Winchester and got a bottle of the internal treatment and a bottle of the Liniment to use externally. For the sake of other sufferers I wish to say that the results were simply marvelous. After beginning the combined treatment the swelling began to reduce and the pain left me entirely. I continued the treatment until I had taken only two bottles which effected a complete cure. Today I positively feel better than ever before in my life. I feel that I am very fortunate in finding a remedy that has relieved me of the distress and the almost unbearable pains from which I suffered. For the past five weeks I have been working 12 hours a day and haven't even a symptom of rheumatism or ache or pain."

Signed, James C. Jones.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of ALLENRHU, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

ALLENRHU has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished even in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless. You are sure to get it at C. S. Kelley Drug Store.—Adv.

Luxembourg Will Have Real "Army"

BRUSSELS, May 10.—The "Journal d'Echo" announces that the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg is about to recognize its army. It is no longer to be regarded as a joke and treated as a pretext for arraying a baker's dozen of good looking men in picturesque uniforms so that they make a bit of a show when the army is mustered for ceremonial occasions.

But it will cause no trembling among foreign potentates. The whole army will consist of only about 500 men, but they will be real soldiers and equipped as such. When the baby Grand Duchess was born recently, the necessary salute to herald the new arrival was fired with guns that had to be borrowed from France. The new army will at least save the Duchy from a repetition of that humiliation. Every soldier will be given a gun and will be taught how to handle it.

OLD TRUCK USED
FRESNO, Cal., May 10.—The old game, the "box swindle," was pulled here recently and netted the confidence men $4,000 from Clements Larra, 65. The bunco men told Larra they were distributing $100,000 to churches and the poor. If he would put up $4,000 as security they said they would give him $40,000 to distribute. All the money, or Larra thought all, was put in a tin box. He had seen four thick rolls of money—wads of paper with $1 bills around them, it developed when the box was pried open at the Bank of Italy. Larra's roll of $4,000 was gone.

VISALIA PERMITS
Visalia, May 10.—A splendid building record has been recorded here for the first four months of 1923, permits totalling nearly a quarter of a million, to be exact, $246,544. More than 50 new homes are now under course of construction.

Santa Ana as guests of their uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. U. G. Little.

Mrs. Laura Lewis of Los Angeles was a visitor here from Wednesday until Sunday, dividing the time between the homes of her daughter and son, Mrs. D. W. C. Dimock and Wilfred Lewis.

Miss May Chilson who has spent the winter in California a part of the time here with her sister, Mrs. A. H. Moore, left Tuesday for her home in Hudson, Oklahoma. Miss Chilson took the train in Santa Ana.

Another new house is nearing completion in the Blaylock subdivision and one family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blaylock, are the owners of their new home. The Rolphs are of Huntington Beach.

Mrs. Henry Winters returned Friday from Modesto where she was called two weeks ago by the sudden death of a sister. Her mother who also was ill at the time is greatly improved.

SEE WINTER WHEAT CROP IS GOING UP

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The average condition of winter wheat on May 1, was 80.1, compared with 75.2 on April 1, and 87.5 the average for the last ten years, the department of agriculture estimated today.

On May 1, the area of winter wheat to be harvested was about 39,750,000 acres or 6,629,000 acres (14.3 per cent) less than the acreage planted last autumn, and 2,377,000 acres (5.6 per cent) less than the acreage harvested last year, which was 42,127,000 acres. On the basis of this acreage, the department estimated a production of winter wheat totaling 578,287,000 bushels this year, or 1.4 per cent less than in 1922 and 2 per cent less than the average for ten years.

FARE PROBLEM IN SEATTLE UNSOLVED

SEATTLE, May 9.—The bothersome question of fares on Seattle's municipal street car lines has been postponed again, and will not come before the city council until May 14.

The ordinance increasing fares was to have been voted upon April 30. Postponement was due to untimely as to the fate of the measure, if the issue were forced in advance of the city election which was held yesterday, May 8.

Councilmen Hesketh and Tindall, who in the past have favored an increased fare, as a means of maintaining the solvency of the street car system, were both up for reelection, as was Councilman Erickson, who is a strong advocate of a decreased fare.

Mayor Edwin J. Brown, whose campaign battle cry was the "five cent car fares," fought the reelection of Hesketh and Tindall, whose votes are necessary to pass the proposed increase over the mayor's threatened veto.

Meanwhile the street car system continues to roll up its deficit at the rate of $5,000 a day.

HORSE SHOEING POPULAR
SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., May 10.—Horse shoeing is still numbered among the desirable accomplishments of the farmer, even in this age of jazz, fast motors, and all, according to the Polygram, student publication of the San Luis Obispo Polytechnic school of California. An addition to the school forge shop has recently been opened, where instruction is given the students in the art of dressing up a horse's hoof.

Signal Hill Oil Field Threatened by Flames

LONG BEACH, Calif., May 10.—Fire imperiled the Signal Hill oil field last night when a gas main suddenly was ignited from a flaming torch misplaced by workmen. Two drillers on adjoining property were slightly burned by the flames, which attracted a huge crowd. The fire was checked by timely action of employees of oil companies in the vicinity who shut off the gas from the main.

FLOATING BODY SEEN

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 10.—Those that crave the life of a sailor—the gay, carefree life of the sea, as the poets sing, would have momentarily had a setback here recently. Sailing joyfully over the bay Captain Cleveland of the Harbor Towing company noticed something unusual in the water. The boat moved near to look it over. The dead body of a man was found. Vain efforts were made to reach the body, which bobbed out of sight, a gruesome spectacle. After much fishing for the corpse, the captain gave up and notified the police. Just part of the daily round of the care free sea life!

TICKET FOR SECURITY.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—E. Bouril, on his way from the Orient to Czechoslovakia, was arrested charged with smuggling. He offered cash bail, it was refused. He offered his ticket, some five yards of it still being left here. The government figured he couldn't get anything like it here and took the ticket as security.

To Make Rich
Red Blood

Revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves and increase your strength and endurance take Organic Iron; not metallic iron which people usually take, but pure organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which is like iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. One dose of Nuxated Iron is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen apples. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. Nuxated Iron is partially predigested and ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron filings. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. A few doses will often commence to enrich your blood. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Always insist on having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

REMODELING OF YOST THEATER BUILDING IS PLANNED

New Facade Among Features Being Sketched By S. Hill and Son

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Progress Reported on Y. M. C. A. and Hall of Records Buildings

Announcement of plans to remodel the Yost theater and rumored completion of negotiations for the building of a new $75,000 theater here brought amusement houses to the forefront in building news today.

Though not officially confirmed, it also was reported that extensive remodeling would be done to one of the city's bank buildings within the next 30 days.

A report in contracting circles concerned itself with the proposed building here of a three-story office and district headquarters building by a wholesale paint company.

Preliminary sketches of the new front projected for the Yost theater were being prepared by designers of S. Hill and Son, among other decorative features, it was announced that a new facade was planned for the theater building. Progress was reported on the $250,000 Y. M. C. A. building, and the $225,000 hall of records building, both under construction by Frank Hudson. The hall of records was to be completed July 1, and Frank H. Eley, architect, proposed that the Y. M. C. A. building would be completed Thanksgiving day.

Workmen still were industriously clearing away the remains of the obelisk vault on the site of the new $400,000 First National Bank building at Fourth and Main streets.

Oregonian Quits as Ship Board Member

WASHINGTON, May 10.—George E. Chamberlain of Oregon resigned as a member of the United States shipping board, effective June 30.

Chamberlain's resignation was accepted by President Harding. Chamberlain, who was formerly senator from Oregon, will open a law office here.

Reprints of S. A. Boost Ad Available Here

Reprints of the page ad printed in a Los Angeles morning paper last week under authority of the Greater Santa Ana club are available at the Chamber of Commerce and 118 West Third street, it was announced today by Everett A. White, president of the club.

The reprints are free for the asking. Local residents are urged to get copies, wrap them in local papers and send them to friends and relatives in the east.

Woodlawn Addition Prices to Receive Boost Says Report

Woodlawn, the north side addition owned by Wayland Wood and A. J. Smiley, is nearing a complete sell-out. With the starting of a house by W. C. Tralle the end of this week, Woodlawn will have six houses of good class to show. Five houses in this tract are almost finished. These houses are owned by M. S. McClay, C. J. Phelps, Charles F. Stroh, Mrs. Wellbank and R. W. Dietrich. Recent lot purchasers include T. W. Rogers, Mrs. Edith Auger, D. A. Harwood, Mrs. Sada M. Haynes, Mrs. Hazel C. Northcross, J. F. Snowden and Mrs. Katie Snowden. All improvements are being speeded at Woodlawn. The owners will advance the prices on the lots remaining unsold tomorrow night, they said.

Oil Company Seeks Pipe Line Permit

The Union Oil company has applied to the war department for permission to lay two 8-inch oil pipe lines, beginning at a point about 1425 feet northwesterly from the westerly city limits of the city of Huntington Beach and extending into the Pacific ocean a distance of about 4500 feet from high water line.

A map showing location of the proposed pipe lines will be on exhibition in the office of Major E. D. Ardery, district engineer, 725 Central building, Los Angeles, until 11 a. m., May 16.

Interested parties are invited to inspect this map and to submit in writing, in duplicate, on or before that date, any objections based on navigation interests that they may have to the proposed work. Objections based on other than navigation interests cannot be considered.

28 LOTS READY AS FAIRMONT TRACT OPEN

Subdivision of Bangs Estate Marks Passing of Ancient Landmark

Declaring that Fairmont Park is the "closest-in" subdivision in Santa Ana, the California Trading company today placed on the market twenty-eight lots on Orange avenue and Bishop street, subdividing the F. E. Bangs estate. The owners of this tract are Alex Grant, Fred A. Stowe and G. T. Houseman, all of whom came to Santa Ana recently from Fairmont, Minnesota. The tract here has been named in honor of the old Minnesota home town.

The subdividing of the Bangs estate marks the passing of another ancient landmark in Santa Ana. For many years, when Santa Ana was a village, the Bangs property was one of the foremost dairy ranches of Orange county. Owing to the fact that it was for years a dairy ranch, it is said to be a highly fertilized property. Giant walnut trees, interspersed with oranges, cover the property.

The lots offered on Orange avenue are 50x140 feet in size. On Bishop street lots are 50x175 feet. Through the middle of the property from Orange avenue east, a new street is being graded for pavement. This is called Grant street. A five-inch pavement is also being laid from Orange avenue east on Bishop street. All other modern improvements have been taken care of.

"Fairmont Park is in the six hundred block on Orange avenue," said A. V. Napier of the California Trading company. "I think the location compares favorably with the six hundred block on South Ross or Birch street. It is several blocks closer to the heart of town than any other Santa Ana subdivision."

No building costing less than $2,500 will be permitted in this tract, according to the owners. A uniform distance from the curb is also a restriction which builders will have to observe, it was said.

MacReady and Bride On Their Honeymoon

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 10.—Lieutenant John A. MacReady, who with Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelly flew across America in 26 hours, and his bride, formerly Miss Nellie Jay Turner of Columbus, O., the girl who said she would wed him "when he flew to San Diego without a stop" were honeymooning near here today.

The couple were married in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon at the home of MacReady's parents. Lieutenant Kelly, who acted as best man, is also said to be "up in the air" in more ways than one. His fiancée, a San Diego girl, attended the marriage of his brother, a pilot, with him and it is rumored that they will be married shortly.

L. A. BUILDING MANAGERS ON VISIT HERE

Twelve managers of office and store buildings in Los Angeles were praising Santa Ana today, following their visit here yesterday. They were guests of R. L. Bisby, manager of the W. H. Spurgeon Realty company, at luncheon at St. Ann's Inn, and later were taken for a ride to interesting points in this vicinity.

The men were members of the Building Managers' association, of which Bisby recently became a member. Luncheon meetings are held every Wednesday. The visitors declared that their visit here with a session at the inn, was one of the most enjoyable meetings they had ever held.

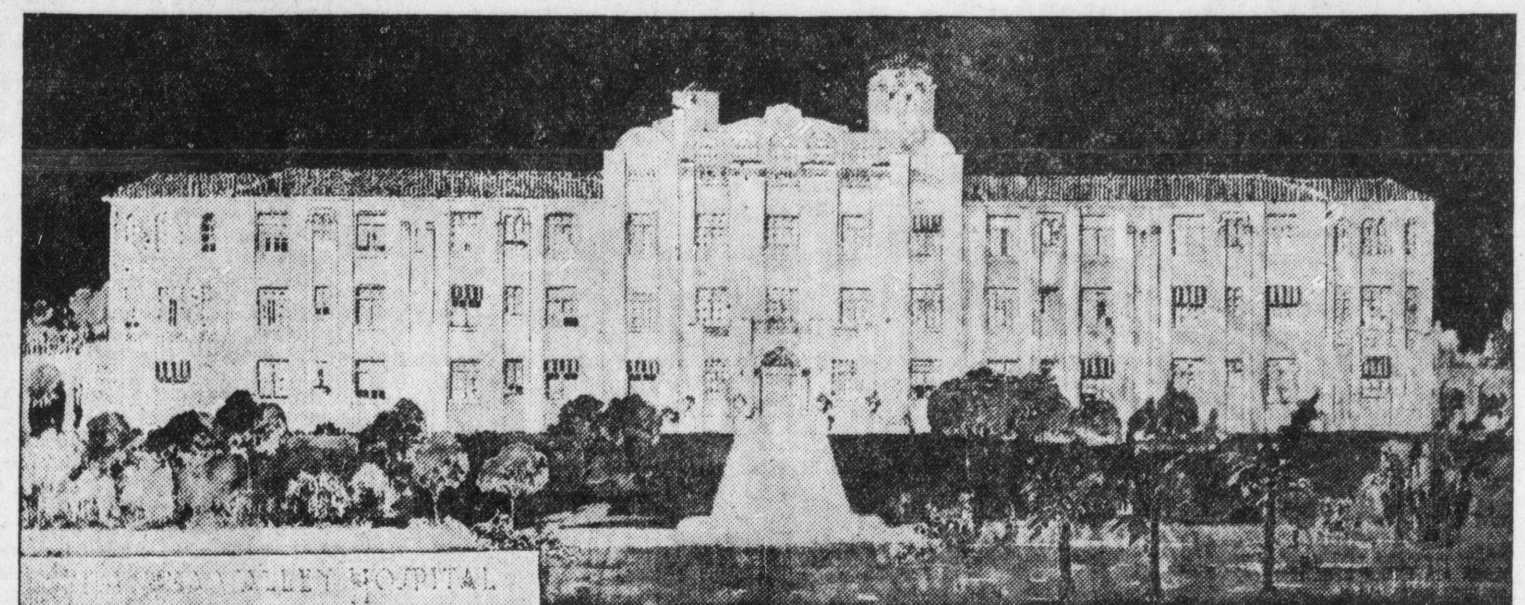

The managers represented 5409 office rooms in Los Angeles with an estimated monthly rental income of $216,360, or $2,596,320 annually. A large number of store rooms were represented by the managers. It was estimated that the revenue from the properties they managed, including stores and offices, is $4,034,320 annually.

Charles H. Chapman, as representative of the Santa Ana city council, and J. C. Metzgar, as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, extended the manager a welcome and briefly outlined some of the business activities of this city and its possible future.

The guests and the building that they have charge of were as follows: J. E. Brown, Douglas; Robert Ware, Hellman; Harry Henley, Brockman; Louis T. Clark, Wright; Callender; Victor Newman, Story; J. H. Kennedy, Garland; R. R. Stockburger, Homer Laughlin; F. X. Adelman, Frost; A. F. Woodbury, Bartlett; P. H. Thompson, Pacific; W. R. Fryk, Metropolitan; P. R. Kent, secretary-manager of the association.

Residence Property Sales In Weekly Report of Realtor

W. B. Martin, realtor, in connection with his salesmen, J. E. McKee and A. P. Daley, today reported the following sales recently through his office:

L. W. Sorenson, building contractor, to J. E. Tanis, the new residence at 1203 Orange avenue. M. J. McCurdy to L. E. Marin, 75-foot front lot at 814 Orange avenue. It is understood the purchaser contemplates the building of a bungalow court on the lot.

Herman Means to Ben Heinmiller, a lot in the 1000 block on West Sixth street. According to report, Heinmiller will in a short time start the erection of a residence.

J. G. Steele to Miss Mary Daly, a lot on West Second street, upon which the purchaser will at once build a duplex house.

KILSON SQUARE ATTRACTS LOT BUYERS

The Guaranty Finance company reports a splendid reception by buyers for their new tract, Kilson Square, which was opened at Beverly Place and Oak street just a week ago today. Fifteen lots have already been sold in this tract and twelve houses will be started within the next two weeks, according to Sales Manager H. R. Eyer.

It is the intention of the subdividers to rush all improvements here so that they will be completed by the time the first houses are ready for occupancy. Each lot in this tract will have from three to six 15-year-old budded walnut trees.

One of the selling points made by the subdividers of Kilson Square is its proximity to both the Spurgeon school and the new junior high school, both being but four blocks distant. C. E. Roberts, in charge of all improvement work at Kilson Square, is on the job day and night to see that there will be no lagging in this important branch of subdivision work.

Odd Fellows' Conclave In Pasadena Next Year

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Routine work continued in the joint conventions of the California Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the California Assembly of Rebekahs. The conventions opened Tuesday.

Pasadena has been chosen for the 1924 convention city. Today officers of the two bodies were installed. E. R. Longley of Los Angeles became grand master of the Odd Fellows and Mrs. Addie Byrne, of Windsor, assumed the presidency of the state Rebekahs. The convention will terminate tomorrow.

Jail Oil Worker for Assault On Employer

William Beckstead, 54, driller foreman at Huntington Beach, was in a critical condition at the Anaheim sanitarium today and H. W. Hanna, employee of Beckstead, was in the county jail facing charges of assault with a deadly weapon, as a result of a quarrel between the two.

According to City Marshal Jack Tinsley, Huntington Beach, who arrested Hanna, the latter became angered when Beckstead reprimanded him, seized a three-inch steel pipe, about three feet long, and struck him several blows over the head and back. Beckstead's condition was regarded as critical.

REALTORS PLAN BIG PICNIC AT RIVERSIDE

Real estate brokers of Santa Ana and Orange county today were making preparations for a vacation next Saturday, the occasion of the third annual basket picnic of Southern California realtors, which is to be held at Fairmont park, Riverside, with the program of entertainment starting at 10 a. m. Speaking, games, races and swimming, with a dance at Elks' hall in the evening, will be included in the program.

Registration will be at the Glenwood Mission Inn, and after seeing this wonderful place, the visitors will motor to the summit of Mount Rubidoux.

Among the speakers will be Frazier O. Reed, of San Jose, president of the California Real Estate association; Col. Henry P. Barbour, of Long Beach, and C. L. Seagraves, the Santa Fe's general colonization agent from Chicago.

William H. Alkin, chairman of the state legislative committee, who recently has returned from Sacramento, will deliver an address. The legislation which his committee sponsored has been enacted and signed by Governor Richard. Freeman H. Bloodgood, former state real estate commissioner, will speak on the work of a realty board in its community.

Mayor S. C. Evans will deliver the address of welcome. Vice President O. A. Vickrey will respond. Three regional districts of the state association will combine for this picnic, and delegates are expected to be present from the counties south of the Tehachapi.

W. E. Stephens of Riverside, is president of the picnic association. I. S. Logan, Riverside, is secretary and Frank C. Nye, president of the Riverside realty board is chairman of the program committee.

One of the features of the picnic will be the awarding of a round trip ticket to the state real estate convention at Sacramento, to be held in October.

SANTA MONICA SCENE OF VET ENCAMPMENT

The thirty-sixth annual encampment of the Southern California Veteran association will be held at the Methodist assembly grounds, Santa Monica canyon, June 12-22. Instead of at Huntington Beach, it became known here today. It will be known as Camp R. Heffelfinger.

The tent city consists of a combination of tent houses with board floors and walls, and one-room houses built for the accommodation of two. Either type will be available to the veterans attending the encampment. It was announced that reservations may be made after June 1, by applying to the Pacific Palisades association, reservation department, box 28, Santa Monica.

W. J. Leissner, of this city, is senior vice-commander of the association, while O. H. Maryatt, also of this city, is a member of the council of administration.

Among the officers of the woman's auxiliary are Mrs. Anna M. Pendleton, Santa Ana, secretary; Ella Wilson, Santa Ana, chaplain; Pearl Stearns, Huntington Beach, senior vice president; Maude Wallace, Santa Ana, member council. The program already has been completed and members of the association and the auxiliary are looking forward to the event in keen anticipation of a delightful outing.

Construction work commenced by Southern California Edison company on its Big Creek-San Joaquin river project in Fresno county.

With tentative plans for the new Santa Ana Valley hospital to be erected on the southwest corner of Grand and Washington avenues approved by the building committee composed of Drs. J. M. Burlew, John Wehrly, H. N. Brothers, R. P. Yaegel, B. Martell, H. Newton Thornton, architect, in the Hill building, today was preparing working plans and specifications for contractors to estimate the costs of construction. It is estimated the building will cost $276,000.

The general arrangement of the different buildings and departments were given full approval by the committee.

The site embraces seven acres and a comprehensive scheme is being outlined which includes a main administration building, central on the site, laundry and nurses' home at the corner of the site and an isolation section in the south of the main building. A superintendent's home adjoining the building for nurses is planned.

According to the architect, the main administration building is to be four-story fire-proof structure, fully equipped with the most modern facilities and arrangement in hospital planning. The main building provides for ninety beds with arrangements for future expansion to 125 beds.

Main Floor Plan.

In planning the building, Thornton has made an innovation by providing for location of kitchen departments, nurses' dining room, X-ray and laboratory on the first floor, according to the architect, who suggested this as being entirely in keeping with the California climate. It is declared that his arrangement will make the place more sanitary, and will give better access to all pipes and mechanical equipment, and prevent odors so common in hospitals.

An entrance for receiving accident cases has been arranged on the north end of the building. It is well screened from public gaze by a green garden pergola. This will be utilized as a staff entrance and to the locker room of the physicians.

"There will be operating rooms, one for special cases, one for maternity cases, one accident and emergency and two major operating rooms, all with the latest sterilization and scrub room equipment," said Thornton.

Most of the rooms are private, many with private baths. Some semi-private and few wards up to six beds each are located on one floor. Wash bowls are to be placed in every room. There will be elaborate sun porches and solarium facilities at the end of the building and part of the roof. Two elevators, one for passengers and the other for freight, will be installed.

The building is designed in a very pleasing balance of Spanish architecture and will be treated in colors that will lend themselves best to the beautiful orange grove surrounding.

GIRL HOVERING BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH

The condition of Miss Della Vennig, 14-year-old Long Beach school girl injured in a motor accident in Fullerton last Sunday, was extremely critical today, according to attending physicians.

Miss Vennig and her companion, G. W. Schlessler, 21-year-old sailor, are patients in the Fullerton general hospital. They were injured when a light automobile which Schlessler was driving struck a hole in the pavement and collided with a hydrant on East Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton.

"Miss Vennig's condition is extremely critical," was the word given out by the matron of the hospital. "Physicians performed an operation on her skull in an effort to save her life, but she is not yet out of danger. She is conscious at intervals."

Schlessler, it was declared, had regained consciousness. Attendants reported that he is still in a serious condition.

HEWES ACREAGE GOING FAST, HUFF SAYS

Showing the popularity of Valencia orange and lemon groves in the frostless foothill district of Orange county, fifteen parcels of the famous David Hewes ranch, recently opened for subdivision, have been purchased, according to announcement made by D. Eymann Huff, general manager of the estate.

Huff said the tracts already sold vary from 2 1/2 to 38 acres each, and several of the purchasers are already planning to build homes on their new grove properties before the year is out and to make this delightful spot their home. The ranch lies three miles east of Orange and five miles north-east of Santa Ana, up against the foothills, where a splendid view can be had of the fertile Santa Ana valley.

Purchasers of tracts in this 675-acre citrus ranch to date include the following:

Leo B. McGavren, R. D. No. 5, Anaheim; H. E. Yost, 2333 North Main street, Santa Ana; James M. Burchell, R. D. No. 3, Orange; A. R. Benson, 510 East Walnut avenue, Orange; J. A. Dowell, 510 South Main street, Santa Ana; Chester Crutsenburg, 723 Van Ness avenue, Santa Ana; P. S. Lucas, city hall, Santa Ana; G. W. Duncan, 124 Hill street, Walnut Park, Los Angeles; H. F. Taylor, Boston, Mass.; A. B. Chandler, 406 East Walnut street, Santa Ana; R. Shearme, 926 West Pine street, Santa Ana; W. Slocum, 359 San Francisco avenue, Pomona; H. J. CORPORATION'S DAILY PAYROLL AT BIG PLANT ESTIMATED AT OVER $600

Holly Company Preparing to Add Anaheim House to Organization

NEW PROCESS USED

Extract From Molasses to Be First Run Santa Ana Plant, Manager Says

Scheduled to provide employment for 120 men six months of the year outside of the regular beet season, with a daily payroll of $600 for the period, and much larger force in the sugar season, Claude L. Killen, superintendent of the Santa Ana Sugar company plant at Dyer, today was rushing work in preparation for starting operation Saturday, May 19, of the Steffens plant for extracting sugar from molasses.

The property belongs to the Holly Sugar corporation, which has just completed negotiations for purchase of the Anaheim Sugar mill.

Following the regular beet sugar season at the local refinery, the Steffens plant will be operated on molasses brought here from some of the companies numerous sugar factories.

The fact that operation of the plant in the usual idle season will give employment steadily to 120 men is an item of considerable interest here, for the payroll will amount to approximately $118,000 in the period. During the beet sugar operating season the number of employees will be increased.

New Process Used
By a process invented a number of years ago by an Austrian named Steffens, utilization of molasses for the manufacture of sugar was made possible. At a cost approximating $400,000, a Steffens plant was erected at the local mill some years ago.

Discussing the process, Killen said: "The process used by Santa Ana Sugar company in the making of sugar from molasses is quite complicated, one requiring a complete refrigerating steam and electric generating plant, in addition to the usual equipment found in a modern sugar mill."

"The process of extracting the sugar from molasses is purely a chemical reaction and is based upon the combination of pure calcium oxide (lime) and sugar. This combination takes place only at a low temperature, hence the reason a large refrigerating plant is made necessary. In this process the most important factor is the elimination of any and all impurities, as it is only by bringing the solu-

Care of Your Eyes

BY DR. ROY S. HORTON
OP-TOM-ETRIST

The Eyes of School Children

A prominent educator in addressing the Eye Sight Conservation Council stated:

"The conservation of eyesight with the school children is a necessity. Accuracy of vision has a vital relationship to integrity or obliquity, not only in the field of vision, but in the moral field. Of the 24,000,000 school children in the United States, not more than a third receive reasonably adequate tests of vision, and not more than a third of those who are tested have these defects of vision adequately and properly corrected. It is impossible to measure the loss that this neglect causes to the individual, to the community, to the nation as a whole. What economic loss, how much loss to science, to art, to invention, to literature; how much loss in the way of preventable illness, misery, and physical disability, dependency, occurs through the neglect of the human vision! The defects of vision in children represent one of the most hopeful divisions of physical defects which the children present us. A large per cent can be effectively corrected with less expense and less difficulty than perhaps is true of any other defect. It is necessary to impress the school teachers with the importance of eye-care and of regard for the way in which their pupils are using their eyes. The schools of this country are going slowly. They need help. The rapid development of interest, in range and intensity, of educators, of school officials, of superintendents, principals and teachers over this land, is impressive. They cannot do it all, they can do relatively little. When it comes to the whole problem of a national program, they must be helped. On the outside, a good deal of vigorous, enthusiastic and sane publicity, and education, to awaken people to an appreciation of the facts and value of the eyes of the children is needed. The mass of the parents in this country have little appreciation of the importance of the needs of the children and of what should be done for them. This problem will never be solved until all are willing to enthusiastically and unselfishly cooperate. The community, the school, the state, and the nation can do nothing less than that."

tions to a high degree of purity that the crystallizations of sugar is made possible. Where impurities are present sugar will not crystallize. This is why sugar is one of the most wholesome food products on the market today.

Quick Acting

The molasses used is thinned to enable quick action in handling. This is cooled by refrigeration to a temperature of 58 degrees F. when a pure air floated-lime powder is added in an amount ten per cent in excess of sugar contained in solution. The refrigeration is maintained until the lime and sugar combine, forming what is termed a saccharate. The liquid portion of solution is then filtered off through a vacuum filter leaving a cake composed of lime and sugar.

"This cake is then dissolved in a thin syrup and the combination of lime and sugar broken up by the introduction of carbon dioxide which is obtained by the burning of lime rock using coke as a fuel.

"After this breaking up occurs, the clear liquid is filtered off by successive purifying operations a clear liquid almost colorless and of a very high purity is obtained. Crystallization of sugar is then brought about by steam evaporation, then the liquid remaining is separated by centrifugal force.

"The resultant crystals are then thoroughly washed with clean water, dried, run through a granulator and sold for table use.

"In each step of this operation human hands at no time come in contact with the solutions or the final sugar until delivered to consumer."

DIVORCE MILL GETS 4 NEW CASES HERE

Four more marital barks have gone on the rocks, divorce complaints on file in superior court here today revealed.

The matrimonial career of E. B. Grilley and Emma Grilley, lasted only 16 days, according to Grilley's complaint.

They were wedded in Santa Ana, November 3, 1919, and on November 19 of the same year, Mrs. Grilley left her husband, the suit declared.

Attorney E. T. Langley prepared the complaint.

Declaring that her husband cursed her for being gray haired, and that he was frequently intoxicated, Mary C. Henley, Anaheim, filed suit against Joseph D. Henley.

Henley cursed her with fluency, she claimed, and threatened her. They were married at Stockton, November 24, 1916, and separated May 1 of this year.

Charging desertion, Rex Harold Miller filed suit against his wife, Ruby Pearl Miller.

They were married April 19, 1919, in Bakersfield, the suit declared. January 24, 1922, she left him, he asserted.

Attorney L. W. Blodgett, Huntington Beach represented the plaintiff.

After nearly 17 years of wedded life, Jessie Ethel Canine left her husband, Robert Leonard Canine, according to statements contained in Canine's suit for divorce.

They were married at San Francisco, November 27, 1904, and separated May 15, 1921.

Attorney L. W. Blodgett, Huntington Beach, represented the plaintiff.

Villa Park Center Has Good Meeting

VILLA PARK, May 10.—Hereafter the meetings of the Villa Park farm center will alternate between Villa Park, Olive and Orange. It was announced last night at the meetings of the bureau here by President Leon Whittell. Mr. Whittell presided.

The Harmony Four of Orange gave several numbers after which D. D. Waynick, chemist of the Citrus Packing association laboratory in Anaheim, discussed the value of soil and fertilizer tests. He brought out the value of buying fertilizer on the unit basis instead of by the ton.

W. R. Schoonover, specialist in citrus culture of the University of California, spoke on the importance of individual tree care and orchard efficiency.

H. G. Upham offered a directors' report. John Ragan discussed the county fair situation. Assistant County Farm Advisor announced the tractor schools to be held at Tustin, May 25; Villa Park, May 26; Garden Grove, May 28; and La Habra, May 29. Tractor specialists will be present.

Russia Yields as To Japan's Fish Rights

TOKIO, May 10.—Russia has agreed to Japanese contentions as to the fishing rights of Japan along the Siberian coast, which have long been in controversy.

This action by Russia was regarded as greatly increasing the prospect for the proposed Russo-Japanese diplomatic and trade conference which has been requested by Russia. The final decision of Japan as to whether she will enter such a conference, however, remains uncertain.

Norco Light

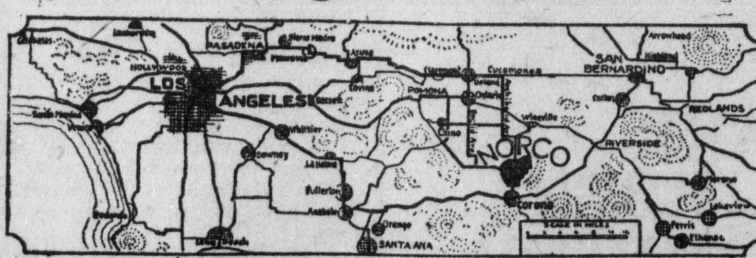

WILL GUIDE YOU TO NORCO AND NORCO FARMS

As you follow in the wake of your headlights along paved highways or step out beneath the stars after the heat of the summer sun, if good fortune has brought you into the midland valley of Southern California's Orchard Empire, you will see upon the horizon the flashing of a new light, and perhaps your eyes will discern the white tower of a light house mounted upon a rock-crested peak, against the background of distant hills.

This is the Norco Light, built upon Norco Peak rising abruptly in the center of a great hill-rimmed valley that stretches like a floor in all directions. The white tower of Norco Light stands like a sentinel to guide you to the fertile orchards and farm lands and to the town of Norco where you can make your dreams come true, for here is everything that heart could wish—the assurance of a comfortable living delightfully earned in the open with all the conveniences of the city in the inspiring surroundings of the country.

On SUNDAY May 13th At NORCO Farms

Come to Norco Sunday and see for yourself. We are prepared to serve hot dinner to 10,000 people, and want you to be one of them? Remember, whoever you are, you are our guest and welcome.

Dinner will be served at 12:30 o'clock. If you are driving you should leave Los Angeles not later than 9 a. m., and other points accordingly. The roads will all be well posted with signs such as those illustrated above. The routes are briefly as follows: The Pomona road, turning South through Chino; the Foothill Boulevard and South on Euclid Avenue; the Valley Boulevard and South on Archibald Avenue; the Santa Ana Canyon road and North at Corona. Coming from Riverside, turn Southwest at the West Riverside store. Buses will connect with Pacific Electric and Santa Fe trains at Corona Sunday, May 13.

During and after dinner there will be a distinctive and worth while program for your amusement.

Norco is owned by the North Corona Land Company, George C. Peckham Company, Sales Managers, 1100-1102 Hibernian Bldg., Los Angeles; Phones 65392 and Pico 1430.

LUMBER COMPANY BUYS NEW TRUCKS

In order to keep up with the growth of Santa Ana, and the maintenance of delivery service of the highest standard, the Barr Lumber company has just completed the purchase of four new trucks and disposed of all its old truck equipment, it was announced today.

"The trucks purchased are two new three-ton Mack trucks and two converted Cadillac speed trucks with trailers," said a representative of the Barr Lumber company.

"The Macks are the very latest type of lumber equipment, with steel cab and reinforced frames. They are especially equipped for the economical hauling of large loads of lumber, lime, plaster and cement."

"The Cadillac speed trucks are made from converted Cadillac passenger cars and are built with rack platforms which makes it safer to haul sash, doors, moulding, cabinet work, finish, roofing material and wall board. This fleet of truck equipment assures the purchasers of building material in the Santa Ana territory of the best of dependable delivery service."

BATHING GIRLS TO PARADE AT ORANGE SHOW

ANAHEIM, May 10.—Not the least of the beautiful things to be seen at the Third Annual California Valencia Orange Show which will be held here May 22 to 30, inclusive, will be the daughters of the Orange belt, who will play an important part in the show.

Fraser Likes 'Em

Malcolm Fraser, manager of the show, has an eye to the beauty of a daughter of the Orange belt as well as to the beauty of a California Valencia orange. He believes there should be some real beauty in the show besides beautiful valencias and beautiful Egyptian decorations.

As a result the fairest and most beautiful girls from Anaheim, Fullerton, Santa Ana and Orange will preside over the exhibit booths. Fraser has selected more than a score of pretty girls to lend their charm to the show.

Vaudeville Arranged

Beauty will appear in song, dance and costume in the vaudeville performance that will be presented both afternoon and evening. Miss Jewel Pathe, noted dancer from Los Angeles, and her bevy of dancing beauties have been secured to take part in this department of the entertainment. She will have fifteen dancing girls with her who will offer various Egyptian, Oriental and other classical dances. They will also render the latest jazz melodies to music furnished by A. R. Shepherd and the Philharmonic musicians from Los Angeles.

Bathing Girl Revue

As a finale to the act the girls will present a Bathing Girl revue, each garbed in the latest bathing suit. Miss Pathe, who was a model before she became a dancer, will wear her newest creation, the "King Tut" bathing suit. This is an original creation and is built along Egyptian lines. It will be decorated with the usual Egyptian decorations.

No Word from Harding

No word has yet been received from President Harding regarding the request from the Orange show committee that he officially open the gates by radio. Small hopes are being entertained that he will be able to take part, as late dispatches from Washington say that he will probably leave on his tour of the country about May 22.

Hanson-Bloodgood Speak

The Orange County Real Estate association is planning a celebration on the opening day. They have secured Ole Hanson, former mayor of Seattle, and now a realty dealer; and Freeman H. Bloodgood, first head of the California Real Estate commission, to speak.

The opening day will be "Goldwyn Studios and Realtors Day." The Goldwyn Studios of Culver City will bring Eleanor Boardman, Claire Windsor, Allen Pringle and others to the show. They will be personally presented in the afternoon and evening.

WALNUT MEN NAME H. W. LEWIS LEADER

Harry W. Lewis was elected president of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association at a meeting of the new board of directors held here late yesterday.

Fred C. Rowland, retiring president, was named vice president. Lewis was also named a director in the California Walnut Growers' association.

Joseph V. Woodside was re-elected secretary.

The new board of directors consists of Harry W. Lewis, F. C. Rowland, Charles Heinrich, W. S. Suddaby and H. W. Rohrs.

2 S. A. Motorcyclists Sent to Jail In L. A. on Speeding Charges

Look to your laurels, Justice John B. Cox.

Two Santa Anans have strayed from the smooth boulevards of Orange county, and have fallen beneath the judicial glare of Justice Baird, Los Angeles, who gave them a pass permitting them to enjoy a 15-day inspection of the county jail.

C. W. Christensen and E. R. Skaggs were oozing along the Anaheim boulevard in Los Angeles county at a 54 mile rate, in a well contested motorcycle race when they were arrested by speed cops.

When they pleaded guilty, Justice Baird emulated the well advertised custom of the Orange county speed nemesis, by pronouncing a sentence of 15 days.

Finding of Skeleton Solves 1921 Mystery

The discovery of a dismembered skeleton of a human being, south-east of Victorville on the way to Little Bear Lake, by H. J. Butts of Orange, may solve the mystery of the disappearance, in January, 1921, of Fred McGowan, 32, according to a theory advanced today by Sheriff W. A. Shay of San Bernardino county.

Sheriff Shay today expressed the belief that the skeleton was that of McGowan, who disappeared, and for whom a search was futile.

According to information available at the time of McGowan's disappearance, he left a ranch in Rock Springs, in good health, January 15, 1921, and was never seen again. A severe snowstorm after his disappearance was believed to have caused his death.

Deft Touches that make the house a home

It may be only a chair, rescued from long oblivion in the attic, that lends a bright spot to an otherwise colorless room; or brilliant basket holding a bowl of flowers. But surely it is the little touches—the feminine touches—that make the house a home!

Women who are anxious to beautify the interior of their homes are devoted to such Fuller products as Silkenwhite Enamel, Decorat and Fullerwear Varnish. Decorat, a varnish and stain in one, imitates various natural woods—oak, mahogany, walnut, etc.

Whatever your painting need, W. P. Fuller & Co. makes a paint for the purpose. There is a local Fuller agent or dealer who carries Fuller Products. Why not see him today. Write, too, for our "Home Service" booklet.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID PIONEER AT FUNERAL

Sorrowing friends, many of whom had known and loved the decedent for years, late today paid final tribute to Robert McFadden, Orange county pioneer, who died at his home here Tuesday night following a long illness.

Funeral services, conducted at the family residence, 1108 North Main street, were extremely simple, in keeping with the desire of Mr. McFadden. The Rev. J. G. Kennedy, former pastor of the United Presbyterian church here, and the Rev. James A. Francis, pastor of the First Baptist church, Los Angeles, officiated.

Miss Isabel Isgrig of Los Angeles sang the twenty-third Psalm. She was accompanied by Harry Warner.

Both pastors paid beautiful tributes to the memory of Mr. McFadden, laying particular emphasis upon his exemplary life and his great value to the community in which he had lived for more than fifty years.

Palibearers, including a number of Mr. McFadden's most intimate friends, were Joseph Wool, John Cubbon, Frank Wakeham, Edward Smiley, S. H. Finley and J. A. Smiley.

Interment was to be made late today in Fairhaven cemetery.

LEGION PICNIC TO BE HELD AT PARK

Many members of American Legion posts throughout the county today were directing plans for attending the annual picnic of legionnaires to be held at Orange county park Sunday. The members of the auxiliary will participate in the affair.

Sports, basket dinner and dancing are included in the program, which has been arranged by a committee composed of one member from each post, with D. W. Tubbs, of Santa Ana Post No. 131, as chairman.

According to Tubbs, all who attend are assured of a good time. It is expected the sports program will begin at 10:30 a. m., with the day concluding at 6 p. m.

Tubbs declared that preparations were being made to entertain from 400 to 500 men and women. Coffee will be provided by the committee.

Call for "chow" will be sounded at 1:30 p. m., Tubbs said. Dancing will be the order of the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hevener and small son visited relatives in Riverside Sunday.

J. W. Bragg went to Riverside Monday on business, and returned home Tuesday.

Miss Ellen Dodson spent the week-end at the home of her parents in Pasadena.

Mrs. Mary Morrill came Monday evening from Corona to visit in the home of her son, W. M. Morrill.

WOMAN MAYOR WILL MAKE RESORT DRY

GRANDON, Wis., May 10.—Miss Lulu Shaw, the first woman mayor in Wisconsin, is starting a campaign to clean up on liquor enforcement in this northern town of 1,600 population.

Mayor Shaw was elected last month after a house-to-house canvass against "silk stockings" who, she said, had raised taxes and allowed the eighteenth amendment to go unenforced.

Grandon is not far from the Canadian line.

Two of her candidates on whose election depended the control of the city council were defeated, but she will carry on her campaign to which she pledged herself.

Mayor Shaw is wealthy, her father having purchased large tracts of timberlands in the early days of this district. She is now owner of the land and a summer resort, which she manages.

PAULARINO NEWS

PAULARINO, May 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cathcart of Santa Ana, spent Sunday as the guest of Mrs. Cathcart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jamieson.

Mr. and Mrs. Babb and Rachel Nugent were visitors with relatives in Santa Ana Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jamieson and daughters, Margaret and Thelma, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Nate Hughes.

Mrs. Ora Joseph and sons of Orange, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Joseph's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Baker, as dinner guests.

W. W. Shiffer has been confined to his home with the "flu" the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Friend and family of Olinda, were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. Friend's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Fairchild.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Emerson, Mrs. J. W. Shiffer and daughters, Ruby, Ethel and Evelyn, and Dorothy Fairchild attended the parade Saturday morning in Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bogart and daughter were callers at J. T. Chilcoat's home Saturday morning.

Mrs. C. D. Shiffer and daughters and a cousin, Mrs. Charles Colvin, and son were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Shiffer's sister, Mrs. Fairchild, and family and a brother-in-law and family, J. W. Shiffer.

Miss Marie Wells and Theodore Baker were Sunday evening callers in Orange at the home of Mr. Baker's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Joseph.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bierbower and daughters, Iva, Delta, Helen, Jauneta, and son, Edsell, of Long Beach, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. Fry of Orange, were visitors in Paularino Sunday afternoon.

Leroy Blankingship, a brother of Mrs. Elmer Bogart, with his bride, spent Thursday night with his sister and family. Friday morning they continued their wedding journey to San Diego, returning Saturday evening to Whittier, where they will make their future home.

Mr. Blankingship has many friends in Paularino. Mr. Blankingship made his home with his sister for about a year when he left a few months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Lemke and daughter, Eleanor, and son, Martin, were Sunday dinner guests in Olive at the home of Mr. Lemke's mother, Mrs. C. Lemke.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shiffer and family spent Sunday afternoon as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wells.

Slaying Aftermath of Miners' Battle

POMEROY, O., May 10.—An aftermath of the Logan county, West Virginia mine war, was seen by authorities in the slaying here of Edward W. Reynolds, Montgomery, W. Va., and J. W. Swannor, Logan, W. Va., non-union miners.

James W. Miller, according to Sheriff Wilbur Reeves, confessed he shot the men when they attempted to kidnap him.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The people of Santa Ana and Orange county should buy their Life Insurance of the local agents. Most of the large companies have good reliable men who live here and have lived here for years, who own their homes or rent and spend their money here and boost the county. Several are members of Chamber of Commerce and contribute to help out any worthy cause. Every spring and fall there is an influx of men from Los Angeles and other points who call themselves "Special Agents or From Home Office," who are in reality what are known to local men as strong arm men, high-binders and unreliable and they say anything to get hold of a check or note. Buy of the local men and you won't get stung. Remember this, and don't give notes to strangers and be sorry afterwards.

Within the past few weeks there has been three or four of these Crooks operating around Garden Grove—trying to dissatisfy Policy Holders and get them to cash in their policies and take out Term or Assessment Insurance, thereby causing them a sacrifice, giving up the best insurance in U. S. for something questionable.—Adv.

WAY TO LIGHT DISPLAYS IS TOLD HERE

Merchants of Santa Ana who last night attended the lecture and demonstration of window lighting effects by R. L. Ettingham and F. H. Smith, representing the California Electrical Co-Operative campaign, today had a far better knowledge of the value of correct lighting to display to the best advantage goods exhibited in windows.

The demonstration, and lecture was regarded as highly educational, and brought to the attention of merchants many features that can be made effective in the better display of goods by electric light.

Actual demonstration of window displays was made through the medium of a portable display window carried by the lecturers. The show window is built on the "knock-down" principle and can be quickly assembled. The model show window is 12x12 with 6-foot ceiling. Mounted against the ceiling, hidden by a valance, are two banks of electric light reflectors—some showing white, and others covered with colored shades, red, blue and green—and two spot-lights.

The window is adaptable to a display of any type of merchandise. The lecturers emphasized the effects gained through the different combinations, calling attention to the changing tints of drapes and fabrics and revealing for contemplation figures obtained in an actual test of the comparative drawing power of windows under different intensities of illumination.

Japanese Inspect Ice Making In U. S.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Eitaro Wago, president of Nitto Ice company of Tokio, Japan, accompanied by engineers, has arrived at San Francisco per steamship Tenyo Maru. The purpose of his trip is to investigate ice making and refrigeration in this country and Europe. The party arrived here recently after an inspection tour of ice plants in the various cities on the way to New York. The Nitto Ice company is the largest ice company in Japan, and makes 80 per cent of the total product in the country.

TENOR PLEASES AUDIENCE AT CHAUTAUQUA

The combination of James Hamilton, American lyric tenor, and Charles Mitchell Mixer's orchestra quartette made up a very pleasing program at the Ellison-White chautauqua last night, it was evidenced by the applause given.

Mr. Hamilton has appeared in opera for a number of years and had his full, sympathetic voice well under control. The chamber musicians accompanied him very skillfully.

Beatrice Stuart Weller, the cartoonist-lecturer, spoke this afternoon. One of the highlights of the week will be reached tonight, it was announced, when Tom Skelly, hill lecturer and globe trotter, will speak on "The New Renaissance of European Civilization."

Skellyhill was in Turkey during the Greek debacle and witnessed the burning of Smyrna. In Italy he observed the working of the black shirted fascisti and was in England when the coalition government foundered and Lloyd George resigned.

Terrific Test in Second Gear

In second gear for 450 miles at 29 miles an hour!

That's the record set by a Lexington stock touring car, lubricated with VENTURA Motor Oil.

For nearly sixteen hours the sturdy Lexington, with its wonderful Ansted motor, roared steadily over the mountains and through the valleys at 33 to 35 miles per hour, from Los Angeles to San Francisco—450 miles with the gears sealed in second!

Such an endurance record was a terrific test for both the oil and the motor. Running at high speed—2000 revolutions per minute—hour after hour, the motor required perfect lubrication to bring it safely through. At no time during the gruelling trip, did the temperature of the radiator water show higher than the average summer heat!

Let VENTURA Motor Oil protect your motor from wear. You can buy it at service stations and garages displaying the Red V trademark.

Vanished Forests Supply Varnish

TODAY, in New Zealand, prospectors are digging nuggets from the earth. Not nuggets of gold, but of Kauri gum—the fossilized resin of the Kauri trees. Excavations have uncovered three strata of earth rich in Kauri gum, indicating three ancient forests, the oldest of which preceded the Christian era. This Kauri gum hardened by time under layers of lava and soil, is shipped to San Francisco, where it is used as the foundation for the finest of

Hueter's Varnish

Since 1877 the BASS-HUETER PAINT COMPANY has imported from New Zealand, the Congo, and other distant countries, the best fossilized gum, as the base for its dependable varnishes. Their great durability is the result of this care in the selection of materials.

Daily, unknown to you, Hueter's varnishes are ministering to your comfort and enjoyment. Most of the steamships, the electric and steam railway coaches in which you travel, are finished with these varnishes. Your automobile comes back from the shop shining because of Hueter's Varnish. Your piano and most Coast-made furniture owe their lustre to its use. Hospitals, municipal and state institutions, as well as many of the homes you enter, are kept bright and sanitary by the use of these Coast-made varnishes.

Among the hundreds of varnishes made by the BASS-HUETER PAINT COMPANY, you will find the one best suited to your purpose, whether it is for home or industrial use. Let us aid you with your finishing problems.

IMMIGRATION LAW CHANGE DEFENDED

WASHINGTON, May 10.—W. W. Husband, United States Commissioner of Immigration, says that in spite of the fact that it is conceded in Washington that the Dillingham quota law of 1921 has been an unqualified success, amendments will probably be made in it.

One of the probable changes would raise the quota of immigrants yearly admitted to 5 per cent, computed not on the census of 1900, but on that of 1890, admitting not 155,000, as at present, from South and East Europe, but only 50,000; but 400,000 from the countries of North and West Europe instead of the present 200,000.

"At any time," Mr. Husband said, "business men and manufacturers want more labor. I think they can have it, only providing it comes from countries whose citizens readily become assimilated here."

The best class of immigrants has come to America this year in its history. The British quota is going to be filled, the Swiss and Belgian quotas are already used up, the Swedish will be in June, the French will perhaps be about 75 per cent used, and the Dutch quota will be filled with a new emigration of farmers. In this connection attention is called to 234 Norwegians and Swedes who came over in our ships last week. They showed customs inspectors cash, notes and letters of credit, totaling about $1,000,000. Some rode first-class, some second, and others steerage.

These Scandinavians went through the immigration tests without difficulty, showing a high level of intelligence. The proposed changes in the law will, it is said, increase the number of this type of immigrant.

FORD HITS THRIFT AS FORTUNE BASIS

WASHINGTON, May 10.—"No man should start to make his fortune until he is 40."

This was one of Henry Ford's directions when requested for some observation on the quickest and happiest road to wealth when he was in Washington on a recent trip. And Ford now ranks as the world's richest man.

"I never attempted to make a fortune in my life," said Ford. "There is only one sure road to success. That is the road of service. Render a real service and you can't help make the fortune."

"Many men make a mistake trying to save; denying themselves proper recreation, opportunity for study and self-improvement in their earlier years. I don't believe in the theory of thrift as a necessary basis for a fortune."

Self-improvement needed. "A man should always save enough to provide for certain necessities, sickness, to secure a home, etc., on the same basis that a man should not take a railroad trip without having money enough to buy a return ticket. But saving should not be the dominant idea of a young man's life. Self-improvement should be."

"Men and women should devote their lives until they are at least 40 to one ideal—that of making themselves as efficient as possible in their business or profession. If they do that they will make so much money after they are 40 that all the money they scrimped and saved for before they are 40 won't matter."

"I never saved any money until I was 40. The money I have accumulated since means nothing to me—except as it gives an opportunity to do things—make opportunities for other men and women to become financially independent and secure complete and well-rounded lives."

Spurns Presidency. Henry Ford has no desire to be President of the United States, according to his friend, the Rev. William L. Stidger, pastor of St. Mark's M. E. church, Detroit.

Dr. Stidger gave an intimate description of the automobile manufacturer to a large audience in the First Congregational church here. "Ford believes his job now is just as big as the presidency," said Dr. Stidger, "and if you knew what he is doing and what he plans to do you would agree with him."

STAGE IRISH PAGEANT. MILLS COLLEGE, OAKLAND, Cal., May 10.—An Irish pageant to be given on the shores of Lake Aliso at the college on May 12, has been prepared for carefully and students today are practically ready for the presentation. Leonore Glenn, of Spokane, sophomore, wrote the story. All roles are taken by seniors.

Had Close Shave

"My wife and children thought I was dying when, after an attack of acute pains in my stomach, I became unconscious. It was right after our Sunday dinner. They say I looked like dead and guess I had a pretty close shave. I had been having more or less stomach trouble and bloating with gas for past two years and could get no permanent help. Talking with a friend about my attack, he advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy. I have not had any gas or stomach trouble since taking it eighteen months ago." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists—Adv.

Theaters

Gloria Swanson who stars in "Prodigal Daughters," picture which begins three-day run at the Yost theater tonight.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.
YOST — "Prodigal Daughters," with Gloria Swanson and Theodore Roberts.

TEMPLE — "Monte Cristo," with John Gilbert.

WEST END — "Chicago Sal," with Milton Sills.

PRINCESS — "Forsaking All Others," with Colleen Moore.

"FORSAKING ALL OTHERS" AT PRINCESS TONIGHT.

If a married love-pirate stole the average girl's sweetheart from her, would she come to the guilty pair's rescue when a maddened husband sought his revenge?

Penelope Fearing had lived a placid girlhood, when suddenly she was confronted with the necessity of deciding that question, in "Forsaking All Others," the feature film play which will be shown at the Princess theater tonight and Friday.

The manner in which the girl faces this question and the surprising results of her decision, are told with the dramatic tenseness of Mary Lerner, who is known as one of the leading feminine writers of fiction in America, and the story pictures a problem akin to, and yet different from a similar problem in many a girl's life.

The author has built up a story in which the forces of emotion sweep to a powerful climax. The things touched upon in the story are elemental, and Universal recognized the theme as exceptional screen material.

An all star cast headed by Colleen Moore and Cullen Landis will be seen in the screen production.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE AT WEST END TOMORROW.

Constance Talmadge in "Romance and Arabella" is announced as the attraction at the West End theater for a two-day engagement beginning tomorrow. A few of the confirmed patrons of the motion picture theater in the city may recall "Romance and Arabella" as one of the most entertaining of the series starring Constance Talmadge which was made a year or two ago. The picture has been revived to satisfy public demand and, in its present form, is re-edited, retitled, and generally refurbished. "Romance and Arabella" is from a story by William Hurlbut and was directed by Walter Edwards who made quite a name for himself by the forceful manner in which he handled this particular star in all of the pictures which she made for the Selznick company.

"MONTE CRISTO" OPENS AT TEMPLE TONIGHT

To find oneself lifted from utter poverty, defeat and misfortune, into boundless wealth and consequent power, is something which is certain to delight the average American. This is the theme of "Monte Cristo," the famous tale of romance from Alexandre Dumas, which will be seen as a screen drama at the Temple theater, starting tonight.

It is another of the big William Fox productions. It has retained all of the beauty and intrigue of the original story, and the scope to show in detail the many exciting incidents in the life of the of the screen permits the director famous fiction character, Edmond Dantes, who later becomes the count of Monte Cristo. The love theme furnishes the background for the story, and the entire story is crowded with dramatic incidents.

An all-star cast headed by John Gilbert and Estelle Taylor portray the many difficult parts. Others of note in the cast are: Robert McKim, William V. Mong, Spottiswoode Aitken, Renee Adoree, Maud George, Gaston Glass, and George Seismann.

"PRODIGAL DAUGHTERS" AT YOST TONIGHT

Do present day girls enjoy too much freedom? Has the World War destroyed cherished ideals of family and home? These are questions answered in "Prodigal Daughters," a new Sam Wood Paramount picture production, starring Gloria Swanson, which will be shown at the Yost theater for three days beginning tonight.

Miss Swanson plays "Swiftie" Forbes, one of two daughters of a famous manufacturer enriched by the World War and who is in Europe. She is ultra-emanipated, and her younger sister tries to emulate her in everything. The mother is engaged in renewing her youthful appearance, and the girls enjoy unlimited freedom.

Forbes comes back and finds his household changed. And the girls defy his parental authority. "Swiftie" leaves to live her own life. Her sister follows and gets married only to find her romance quickly shattered and returns to the home. But "Swiftie" becomes entangled with a gambler and finally is placed in a position which spells the end. Finally she returns—a prodigal daughter—to find her father waiting to forgive and take her back and a sweetheart ready to wed her.

It is a swift-moving story. The love element is supplied by a young aviator, played by Ralph Graves, who believes in "Swiftie" even at her worst moments. Theodore Roberts is the father, Vera Reynolds the sister and Louise Dresser, the mother.

LOCAL NET PLAYERS DRUB TUSTIN, 11-2

Santa Anans to Compete In Dudley Cup, Southland Tournaments Next

The Santa Ana high school tennis team today was laying plans to compete in the Dudley cup matches at Santa Monica Saturday and in the Southern California high school matches the following week, following its 11 to 2 victory over the Tustin high school racquet stars yesterday afternoon.

It was the fifth league win for the Poly net team which has gone through the present season undefeated in school engagements this year, winning 46 out of a possible 52 matches in the Orange league. The Whittier tournament next Wednesday will clinch the title for Santa Ana.

John Cress, city and high school tennis champion, and the Misses Josephine Crookshank and Frances Crockett will compete in the Dudley cup affair. While Cress, Randolph Bell, Enid Twist, Thelma Patton and the Misses Crookshank and Crockett will wear the Poly colors in the All-Southern.

Yesterday's results follow:

Boys' singles—Cress (SA) defeated Runnels (T) 6-1, 6-0; Bell (SA) defeated I. Jimenez (T) 4-6, 6-0, 6-0, 6-0 (SA) defeated B. Jimenez (T) 6-4, 8-6; Beissel (SA) defeated Craft (T) 6-3, 6-3.

Boys' doubles—Bell and Cress (SA) defeated I. Jimenez and B. Jimenez (T) 6-2, 6-4; Romo and Beissel (SA) defeated Runnels and Craft (T) 6-3, 6-1.

Girls' singles—Miss Frances Crockett (SA) defeated Miss Mary Dundstan (T) 6-4, 4-6, 6-3; Miss Josephine Crookshank (SA) defeated Miss Ida Thorman (T) 6-2, 6-0; Miss Thelma Patton (SA) defeated Miss Florence Boosey (T) 6-1, 6-1; Miss Elizabeth Utt (T) defeated Miss Ruth Finley (SA) 6-2, 6-2.

Girls' doubles—Miss Crockett and Miss Crookshank (SA) defeated Miss Dundstan and Miss Thorman (T) 6-2, 6-3; Miss Boosey and Miss Utt (T) defeated Miss Patton and Miss Finley (SA) 6-4, 6-3.

Mixed doubles—Miss Eva McNiel and Harding (SA) defeated Miss Grace Squires and Park (T) 7-5, 5-7 and 6-3.

PADOCK WELCOME

Lions Club Volley Ball Team Subdues Rotarian Athletes

The Santa Ana Lions club volleyball team yesterday afternoon defeated the local Rotary club players on the Y. M. C. A. athletic courts, taking three consecutive games.

Dr. M. A. Patton, Dr. Harvey Stryker, Ralph Smedley, W. H. Spurgeon, Jr., Robert Brown and Marshall Keeler played for the Rotarians with Carson Smith, Dr. Elliott Rowland, Walter Spicer, Glen Todball, Ray Canterbury and H. B. Van Dien on the Lions' team.

The Santa Ana Kiwanis team, composed of Blauer, Miller, Crawford, Miles, Neff, Fernandez and Lieve, defeated the Orange Lions, winning three out of the four games.

THREE ARE KILLED.

ROME, May 10.—Three were killed and ten seriously injured by explosion of a shell aboard the Italian destroyer Angolo Bassini, according to a report from Taranto.

In The Big Leagues

Three runs in the ninth inning gave the Cards a 9 to 7 victory over the Phils. Cy Williams, Phil outfielder, hit his ninth homer.

Hammering four pitchers hard in the pinches, the Cubs came from behind twice and beat the Giants, 9 to 6. Grantham led the Cub attack with a homer and a double.

Gerber knocked in four runs with two doubles and helped the Browns defeat the Athletics, 10 to 5.

Bad weather caused postponement of all other games.

PROTEST DRY RULING.

LONDON, May 10.—Ronald McNeil, under-secretary of foreign affairs, announced in the house of commons that Sir Auckland Geddes, ambassador to Washington, had made representations to Secretary of State Hughes against the supreme court decision which forbids English vessels carrying liquor within the American three-mile limit.

J. H. S. TRACK TEAM CHALLENGES SOUTH

Pomona Squad Falls Before Crack Local Cinderpath
Performers, 52-24

The Santa Ana junior high school track team today issued a challenge to any grammar school cinderpath squad in the Southland to compete in a meet with the Southern California title at stake, following its 52 2-3 to 24 1-3 victory over the Pomona junior high school team on the Poly oval yesterday afternoon.

The undefeated locals have the strongest squad of performers in their history and Lefty ("Boss") Warren, coach, is anxious to arrange a meet with any team in its class.

Santa Ana won six of the nine events with the Pomona athletes. The hurdles, mile and pole vault were not held because the visitors had no entries in these events.

Lon McIntire, the speedy Santa Ana sprinter, tasted defeat for the first time this season in the 50-yard dash, Swing of Pomona leading him to the tape by inches. McIntire, however, came back strongly in the 100 and 220, winning both with ease.

Nieblas accounted for firsts in the 440 and the 880, running the two-lap grind in 2:17. Smith of Santa Ana heaved the shot 34 feet for a first place in this event and Paul leaped 13 feet 4 1-2 inches for the ribbon in the broad jump.

The results: 50-yard dash—Swing (P) first; McIntire (SA) second; Paul (SA) third.

100-yard dash—McIntire (SA) first; Swing (P) second; Decker (SA) third.

220-yard dash—McIntire (SA) first; Decker (SA) second; Paul (SA) third.

440-yard dash—Nieblas (SA) first; Dickinson (P) second; Nava (SA) third.

880-yard run—Nieblas (SA) first; Nava (SA) second; Palmer (P) third.

Relay—Won by Pomona. Shot put—Smith (SA) first; McIntire (SA) second; Becker (P) third.

High jump—Bishop (P) first; Velarde (SA) second; Ross (P), Harrison (SA) and Hurd (SA) tied for third.

Broad jump—Paul (SA) first; Kittle (P) second; Swing (P) third.

GOLF FOURTH ROUND

DEAL, England, May 10.—Dr. O. P. Willing of Portland, Ore., was eliminated by Roger Wethered, British favorite, in the fifth round of the British amateur golf championships this afternoon.

Wethered beat Willing 2 up and two to play, leaving Francis Ouimet and Douglas Grant, an American residing in England, as the only Yankee hopes.

DEAL, England, May 10.—Three Americans came victoriously through the fourth round of the British amateur golf championship this morning.

Francis Ouimet, Brookline, eliminated J. F. Neville, San Francisco, 2 to up, and George V. Rottan, Houston, Texas, fell before Lord Charles Hope 3 to 2.

The other Yankee survivors were Dr. O. P. Willing, Portland, Ore., and Douglas Grant, an American living in London. Both won their matches, in convincing style.

A strong northwest wind whipped the course, making play on the outward journey extremely difficult, punishing hooks and slices unmercifully. Coming home, the wind was favorable.

Willing was the first American in with victory, beating R. W. Crammack of Lytham and Stannes 2 and 1.

Neville, whose golf has been one of the pleasant surprises, from an American viewpoint, of the tournament, carried Francis Ouimet to the 18th green before he succumbed. The Brookline star's 75, however, was super-golf for a day as raw as this is.

Cyril Tolley another of Britain's best bets beat Champion C. N. C. Martin of Royal Port Rush, 1 up.

Roger Wethered, selected by many as the likely winner of the amateur crown despite America's strength, defeated G. C. Manford, of Luttrell New, four and three.

SPORT FLASHES

NEW YORK.—George Godfrey, negro heavyweight protégée of Jack Johnson, was the first sparring partner signed to help Jack Dempsey train for Tommy Gibbons.

CHICAGO.—Appeal of the Indianapolis and Toledo clubs for a modification anti-draft rule that would get them help from the major leagues was voted down by the American Association.

NEW YORK.—When the girl slipped on Broomfield at Jamaica yesterday, Jockey Benny Marinelli helped himself back upon his mount and rode him bareback to second place in the Montauk selling race.

CHICAGO.—Jimmy Darcy, Los Angeles, will replace Harry Greb in a bout with Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia light-heavyweight, here tomorrow night.

GOSSIP of the RING

One of those queer twists of fate or a break in luck, if it might be considered as such, enabled Fred Fulton to redeem himself just as he was about to pass down on the books with the most uncompromising epitaph in sports—"a diver."

The strange parlance of the boxing ring has applied to a fighter who quits under punishment the title of "a dog," "a diver" or a "tanker." Fulton had come into the possession of all of them. He was regarded as being yellow, a faint-hearted giant, who always "looked for the hammock" when he was hurt.

Because he was never popular personally and because he pleaded a fake fight after he was knocked out by one of Jack Dempsey's punches, Fulton came into possession of all the inglorious titles of the ring and he didn't exactly deserve them.

Fulton had been knocked out only by Al Barker, Dempsey, Harry Willis and Billy Miske. Three of them are about the best heavyweights in the country, but because he went down so quickly it was thought that he was willing to get it over with as soon as possible and he was judged accordingly.

As a rule, a "diver" has little trouble in getting matches. Some of them make good money by being used as trial horses for young heavyweights of stouter hearts and heavier punches, but Fulton couldn't get matches. They were all afraid of him, because he was known as a most dangerous fighter when he got out ahead and he had a murderous punch when he wasn't being punished.

Fulton had no chance to vindicate himself. He showed symptoms of courage when he signed to meet Harry Willis when every heavyweight in the class, including the champion, was giving the big colored fighter the wide go by. Fulton had the chance then to show that he was not a "diver," but the conviction against him became all the more fixed when he lost with a quick knockout.

The Minnesota plasterer was just about to give up his career and go down on the books with his blotted record, when young Floyd Johnson came along. Johnson is the most unusual fighter of a decade and he has the most extraordinary manager in the business. Hardly more than a novice, with nothing but a super-confidence in himself, Johnson set up working up to a bout with Dempsey by offering to fight any heavyweight in the class. He promised to beat Bill Brennan, Jess Willard, Tom Gibbons and Harry Willis all in a row, before he asked for a championship bout, and he set about doing it.

Johnson's manager does not believe in gymnasiums. He has the sound but dangerous theory that one hard fight does more to bring out a young fighter than a thousand workouts with sparring partners. Seeking a fight to get his charge in shape for Willard, the manager signed with Fred Fulton. They all said he was crazy. They pointed out that Johnson was in grave danger of being knocked out and that if he did stop Fulton, he would get nothing but the old song that Freddie hit the tank.

It was a break in luck for Fulton as he couldn't get engagements and he made the most of it. He lost a newspaper decision to Johnson, but he won the moral victory.

In the first round he went down—but he came up. He took a bad beating for eleven rounds, but in the last round he stepped out and almost finished the tired, worn-out Johnson, who had expended most of his physical resources in a desperate effort to finish Fulton.

Fulton is no longer regarded as a "dog." They say he is game now, and that they were all wrong. It was a vindication that was late, awfully late, in coming, and if Johnson hadn't been the greatest freak in the ring, Fulton never would have had a chance.

Perhaps Fulton's heart might have wavered at times when he entered the ring, but it must be admitted that he was game to take on the big ones when on his record show such names as Jack Dempsey, Jess Willard, Harry

GAMES TOMORROW
Santa Ana at San Juan Capistrano.
Tustin at Anaheim.
Fullerton at Orange.
Garden Grove at Huntington Beach.
Whittier, bye.

Primed for its last Orange league game before it tangles with the Fullerton high school nine here May 18 in the game that probably will determine the championship of the Orange league, at least as far as the locals are concerned, the Santa Ana high school baseball team this afternoon was going through its final drill for its fray at San Juan Capistrano, tomorrow with the mission city nine.

In order to have a chance to get into the finals for the division championship, Coach Orion Neff's band must win from the Missionites and then drub "Shorty" Smith's Fullerton outfit as well.

The Poly men have not shown their true stuff since early in the season when they defeated Long Beach, now leading the city league pennant scramble. The team has played well in streaks but its fielding has been erratic and has had little hitting power.

Roy Le Bard probably will open the Capistrano engagement on the firing line but Neff likely will lift him if the local team gets safely out in front. Le Bard has been an iron man this season and needs a rest before the Fullerton fray.

Captain Ted Coffman will don the catching togs with Jabs, Bickford, Luck and Finley probably in the infield. Brown, Golden and Howell are due to start in the gardens.

The undefeated Fullerton nine will move to Orange and should have little difficulty in keeping its slate clean.

Willis, Billy Miske, Sam Langford, Frank Moran, Bartley Madden, Charley Weinert, Al Reich and Arthur Pelkey.

Jess Willard is a tougher man than Fulton, and he has a stout heart. The beating that the big Kansan took from Dempsey in Toledo marked him as a game fighter, and if Johnson couldn't stop Fulton, he will have a tough time dropping Willard.

CHANGE OF LIFE LOSES TERRORS

For Women who Rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Pa.—"I took your medicine through the Change of Life and it did wonders for me. I was down in bed when I started to take it and weighed 95 pounds. I had hot flashes and was so nervous and weak that everything would get black and I could not see. I would sit and cry and did not know what I was crying for. Since I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel younger than I did ten years ago, and my friends all tell me I look younger, and I owe it all to the Vegetable Compound. I do all my housework for a family of seven now. I will be glad to answer any woman who writes me in regard to my case."—Mrs. JOHN MYERS, 55 Union St., Greenville, Pa.

Many letters similar to this have been published testifying to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They are sincere expressions from women who describe as best they can their feelings before and after taking this well-known medicine.

SEAL BEACH, May 10.—

Instead of the chime of church bells it was the more modern toot of automobile horns that heralded the approach of a bridal party in Seal Beach Sunday afternoon. Turning from the boulevard to Seventh street they stopped before the home of B. B. Brown, and there, with nature carpeting of green grass, a countless sky overhead, and a background of unit blossoms, the wedding guests witnessed the marriage of Jewell Robert Roddick and Isabel Marian Hayes.

CAMPAIGN DAYS FOR CHAMBER NEXT WEEK

NEWPORT BEACH, May 10.—Putting on a two-day membership drive that will be almost in the nature of a gala occasion for Newport Beach territory, the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, will inaugurate its first campaign Monday and Tuesday, May 14 and 15.

Careful Plans Made
George T. Peabody, chairman, together with Messrs. Hookstra and Ainsworth, are making careful plans for a mammoth affair that will cover every bit of the communities of Balboa, Newport and Costa Mesa, and a fan-shaped wedge, with its apex in Newport Bay will sweep every citizen into the capacious arms of the commercial body.

Tonight the rally will be celebrated with a big dinner to be given in the new Costa Mesa club house by the Friday Afternoon club. The women have promised a meal as delectable as the one furnished at their recent bazaar. In addition a musical program will be given and a report made by the directors of the newly organized body.

High Points Given
Don Kelley, who will have charge of one team of workers has outlined a number of poignant reasons for the success of the chamber, as follows:

"Because we have not a ton of commercial shipping on a million dollar harbor plant which we are still paying for out of our own pockets. It must be made a profitable investment.

"Because we have not a single hotel with a city that has 5000 transient residents six months of the year.

"Because we have not a single modern apartment house. Your transient resident comes to play. Cut his house-keeping worries in half, double his comforts and he will come twice as often.

"Because we have not a single manufacturing plant here where industrial sites on water frontage are cheap; where living conditions for labor are better; where transportation possibilities are unequalled, and where climatic conditions are ideal, especially for textile manufacture.

"Because we are not taking advantage of the inland shown by the people of Riverside and San Bernardino counties in the development of our harbor.

"Because the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce is the only organized body here that has the hearty co-operation of every part of the harbor district and the city government.

"Because it is only through such an organization that a paid manager is employed who is watching out for your interests every minute of the day.

"Because only by you becoming a member and getting your neighbor and his neighbor to become members can we become strong financially.

"Because five dollars invested in Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce activities will bring you bigger cash dividends in increased property values than any other investment you ever made in your life.

"Because—well just think up a few reasons yourself; there are plenty more and it will help you to realize just how badly the district needs such an organization and how badly the organization needs you."

AUTO HORNS TAKE PLACE OF CHIMES

SEAL BEACH, May 10.—Instead of the chime of church bells it was the more modern toot of automobile horns that heralded the approach of a bridal party in Seal Beach Sunday afternoon. Turning from the boulevard to Seventh street they stopped before the home of B. B. Brown, and there, with nature carpeting of green grass, a countless sky overhead, and a background of unit blossoms, the wedding guests witnessed the marriage of Jewell Robert Roddick and Isabel Marian Hayes.

Father, mother and grandparents saw in memories garden another wedding day when hearts beat as high with hope as the same vows were taken.

FULLERTON COLLEGE WILL CROWN MAY QUEEN FRIDAY

Josephine Esseverri, Fullerton junior college student, will be crowned queen of the May at the exercises to be held tomorrow afternoon in the Fullerton park. Queen "Jo" is on the left. On the right is Dorothy Farrand, selected maid of honor by the students of Fullerton union high school. She has named several attendants for the queen.

FULLERTON TO CROWN QUEEN OF MAYTIME

FULLERTON, May 10.—Fervish enthusiasm marks the activities of Fullerton junior college students in their preparations for the annual May fete, to be given Friday, at the Fullerton park, Commonwealth avenue.

The May fete of this year promises to excel in beauty and elabornateness all previous attempts of the local collegians in the way of public celebrations.

Floral Background.
Under the general supervision of Harold Redelberger, a splendid background of vines and flowers is being constructed as a setting for the athletic dances and pantomimes. A high platform surmounted by a throne and flanked by perogolas provides a sylvan atmosphere of splendor and local color. The students of the college have been working night and day making thousands of artificial chrysanthemums in pastel shades of blue, lavender, pink and yellow. These flowers will be used in all parts of the setting, lending an effect of airy charm to harmonize with the costumes of the dancers.

Misses Clara Stephenson and Florence Randall are directing parts of the pageant.

Attendees Picked.
Miriam Pendleton, Mary Rothaermel, Lillian Woodward and Ella McGraw were this morning chosen as May Queen attendants by Dorothy Farrand, maid of honor for the high school.

Josephine Esseverri was chosen last Friday as May Queen by the junior college.

UNIVERSITY BAND TO PLAY AT ORANGE

New President to Be In Chair When Rotarians Gather

ANAHEIM, May 10.—When the Anaheim Rotary club meets Monday for its regular weekly luncheon at the Anaheim Elks' clubhouse, Thomas L. McFadden, newly elected president of the organization, will preside. He will be assisted by the other new officers who include Dr. H. A. Johnston, vice-president; H. H. Benjamin, treasurer; Rev. Thomas Walker, secretary, and William Wallop, sergeant-at-arms; Lloyd Hartman and Carl Leonard are other members of the board of directors.

Mr. McFadden, familiarly known to Rotarians as "Tom," was born in Orange county when it was a part of the county of Los Angeles and has lived near Anaheim during the most of his life. He has seen Anaheim grow from a village, where the streets were "paved" with straw and nearly all the inhabitants were employed in wineries, to the most modern and progressive cities in the Southland.

PETITIONS OUT AT LA HABRA FOR HIGHWAY

LA HABRA, May 10.—Petitions are being circulated for the formation of a road improvement district to pave that portion of Telegraph road from Santa Fe Spring to the Orange county line where it will join with the extension of Central avenue which will be paved by the county.

The action toward a road district followed a conference with Los Angeles county authorities, in which it was made clear that under no circumstances would the county pay for the entire work.

Supervisor William Schumacher of this district, George W. Young, president of the La Habra Chamber of Commerce, Secretary Haig of the Whittier chamber, and Messrs. Perry and Houser, who are interested in the Lowell section, went to Los Angeles and had a conference with Mr. Jones of the road department and Supervisor Cogswell. Mr. Cogswell stated that while his predecessor had promised that the county would pave the road in question, Los Angeles county had adopted an unwavering rule of requiring the property owners to pay seventy-five per cent of the cost of improving roads.

He thought, however, that under the circumstances the county would pay fifty per cent in this case. He said the road funds would not possibly stand any more, at present.

Mr. Cogswell suggested the road district, and expressed the opinion that if matters were pushed the work could be completed by the end of the year.

GROVE CHURCH TO ACCEPT NEW ORGAN

GARDEN GROVE, May 10.—Mothers' Day will be observed at the Methodist church in the morning in both services, in the Sunday school and church services. Rev. Harkness' sermon will be in harmony with the spirit of the day.

In the evening the service will be given to the dedication of the pipe organ. Dr. HMI of Long Beach, one of the donors of the organ, will give a short address of presentation, and Mr. Ed Dozier, in behalf of the trustees of the church, will receive it. Dr. Clyde M. Crist, district superintendent of the San Diego district, will preach the dedication sermon. The choir is also preparing several musical numbers.

A short synopsis of the play will be given in English before the curtain rises. However, the play itself is so full of action and humorous situations that even those who do not understand the spoken language will thoroughly enjoy the performance.

GROVE LIONS HAVE 'SOAK 'EM' OFFICER

GARDEN GROVE, May 10.—At the regular meeting of the Lion's club held Wednesday at the Garden Grove hotel different civic matters were discussed.

The committee on street numbers which has been working with the same committee of the Commercial club reported that the map of the streets was now at the First National bank and those wishing numbers for their residences could get them by calling at the bank.

P. F. Galliene was also elected as the official "soak 'em." The duties of this official are to impose fines derived from these fines are put in the Good Samaritan fund.

Use Antiseptic Liquid Zemo

There is one remedy that seldom fails to stop itching tortures and relieve skin irritation, and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy.

Any druggist can supply you with Zemo, which generally overcomes skin diseases. Eczema, Itch, Pimples, Rash, Blackheads, in most cases give way to Zemo. Frequently, minor blemishes disappear overnight. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is a safe, antiseptic liquid, clean, easy to use and dependable. It costs only 25c; an extra large bottle, $1.00. It is positively safe for tender, sensitive skins.—Adv.

TRAIN SERVICE TO LA HABRA IS STARTED

LA HABRA, May 10.—The Union Pacific system has started train service between this city and Los Angeles.

It is true that the service at present consists of one "mixed" train a day each way, which stops at every station to switch freight cars, but it is regular, and marks the coming of the first steam railroad to La Habra, and another step forward in the rapid march of progress.

The one train a day, consisting of freight and passenger cars, and also carrying local mail, leaves Los Angeles at 1 p. m. daily except Sunday, reaching La Habra at 4:25 and Anaheim at 5 o'clock. This, of course, is a prohibitively slow schedule for passenger service, but undoubtedly improvements will be made in the service as fast as the business justifies it. Returning, the train leaves La Habra for Los Angeles at 7:10 p. m.

The commodious station which the road is erecting for La Habra is not ready for use yet, but temporary quarters have been arranged in one room of it for the local agent, Hugh B. Graff. Mr. Graff's home is at present in Long Beach, and his appointment to La Habra is not yet permanent, as the position might be "claimed" by some employee longer in the service. It is expected that the station will be completed and furnished in the course of the next month, at a total cost of close to $30,000.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S TRIP

Because his sister, Mrs. E. E. Remsburg, is a loved and honored citizen of Santa Ana, the proposed visit of President Harding to California is of more than usual interest to the readers of The Register.

There have been rumors that the trip may be canceled on account of the public, or at least some newspapers, attaching a political significance to it. That is what the President wishes to avoid. He is said to be a receptive candidate for re-election and there seems to be no reason why he should not be. A mere visit of acquaintance to the extreme parts of the country need not, however, have any bearing on that question at all. We all like to see the President and are willing to pay him a liberal allowance with which to travel.

McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft visited California for social purposes during their terms of office, and Wilson made a fleeting visit on the occasion of his campaign for the League of Nations. So we have ample precedent for a visit from the President and the state will be proud of the chance to entertain him. There is no doubt that such visits tend to increase the popularity of a President. If this leads to more discussion of his fitness for re-election there is surely no harm done. We ought not to wish to elect Presidents in the dark.

President Harding promises to have a most successful and happy administration and his chances for another term are bright. This is not because he is a man of genius. He is just a plain, every-day dependable sort of man who has the good sense to seek the counsel and advice of able men to help him. No man, however able, can rely on being right much more than half of the time, and if he insists upon depending upon himself exclusively he will be plentifully blamed for the times when he is wrong. The public has a way of forgetting the times when he was right. They do not expect nor want an infallible demigod in the presidency. President Harding's strongest card is that he is just one of the people.

The Church of England adds to the Decalogue the two commands of Jesus: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart," and "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." That's the essence of Christianity, no doubt. But is Christendom ready for Christianity?

THREE KINDS OF TYRANNY

It is perfectly evident that Europe was not made altogether "safe for democracy." Europe today has remarkable examples of government more absolute than any existing before the World War. Anyone who feels like going in for absolutism has plenty of choice.

First there is the well known Red tyranny in Russia, where a few Bolsheviks play czar over a great nation. There is the tyranny of radicalism.

Then there is the conservative aristocracy ruling in Hungary, under the form of a regency, with Horthy as its representative. That is regarded as the most reactionary government in Europe. It rules just as ruthlessly as the Soviet, by means of the army. And while professing precisely opposite principles to those of the Russian regime, it amounts to about the same thing. One tyranny is as bad as the other.

There is also the "bourgeois" rule of the Italian Fascists, under Premier Mussolini. That is something which naturally appeals to a larger number of intelligent people. It is a very rare spectacle—that of the "middle class", usually ground between the upper and nether millstones, asserting authority over both the rich and poor. Yet even a middle-class tyranny makes little appeal in this country, which wants no absolutism of any kind, but a free and fair representation of all three classes in a government operating for the welfare of the whole mass.

Most of the world's literature is a product of indignation. You can tell that by reading it. When people digest well, they feel too good to bother about writing.

ANCIENT FEMINISM

Maybe feminism is not so modern a thing, after all. Dr. Ravid Moore Robinson of Johns Hopkins University, a noted archeologist, says that excavations in Asia Minor prove women to have played a leading role in very distant times. He speaks especially of discoveries at Sardis, in ancient Lydia, the realm famous by King Croesus, who was the Rockefeller or Ford of his time. Many inscriptions have been found in the Lydian language, hitherto unknown, and many works of sculpture and painting have been unearthed. From the testimony of these Dr. Robinson concludes: "Women were very important in public life in those days as they were in the home. They held public offices. Children took the name of the mother, and not of the father. Women fought in the armies. When we read of modern Turkish women going into parliament, we know they are merely reverting to type."

Thus from one of the oldest of lands, in a region supposed to have been backward as far as women are concerned from the beginning of time, comes a challenge to American feminists.

Germany offers the French 30,000,000 gold marks to get out. Seeing that all numbers look alike in Central Europe, why not offer 100,000,000?

THAT THREE-MILE LINE

The international boundary known as the "three-mile line" used to be a merely imaginary line—almost as imaginary as the equator. It has been a more obvious reality since the enactment of the Volstead act. Its location has been marked in the last few months by a string of contraband booze ships lying at anchor off the Atlantic coast, particularly in the vicinity of New York.

As a result of the Supreme court decision declaring it legal for American vessels to carry and sell liquor on the high seas, that famous line seems destined to be marked more clearly than ever from now on. The decision amounts to saying that as far as alcoholic beverages are concerned, vessels may do as they please three miles from shore. They may play up and down the coast, or anchor where they like, with liquor cargoes, as long as they remain that distance out at sea.

It requires no stretch of the imagination, then, to picture a three-mile line of rum ships up and down both coasts, wherever the shore is thickly settled or has good transportation facilities.

That is, unless the federal authorities take drastic measures to prevent the bringing of liquor ashore from such vessels by "rum-running" powerboats. Without such shore patronage, rum anchored out at sea can serve no purpose except as supply stations for ocean liners, which can neither obtain liquor ashore nor bring it ashore.

The farmer has always been able to save daylight without any legislation. But not for recreation.

PROSAIC AIR SERVICE

When a man falls down stairs and breaks his neck or cracks his skull on a slippery sidewalk, he gets one inch in the news columns. When he falls a thousand feet to his death, it's news. So it is that we all look up when we hear airplane motors, and think of the air mail service as something quite romantic.

It is, of course, but the government's statistics seem designed to make it seem less so.

For instance, since it began operations the air mail service has made 90.39 per cent of its deliveries as scheduled, and this although its aviators have flown through storms of rain, snow, hail or fog 20 months out of the 53 of its existence.

Within this period mail planes have travelled 4,623,115 miles and carried 160,473,600 letters, an average of 34,056 miles and 2,917,884 letters a month. And of 24,988 scheduled trips only 873 have been completed, or hardly one in 25.

A 4 per cent risk is something to be considered, but it isn't a circumstance compared with the chances of the pony express, or of the old mail packets that depended on their sails, or the dog teams that still deliver mail in some corners of the continent. The air mail service is really less exciting than some people would have us believe.

Right to Higher Education

San Francisco Journal.
President-elect Campbell of the University of California has touched upon a vital question in educational policy which deserves a franker discussion than it often gets. He may not have had in mind the taxpayers' angle of the matter, but what he said was just as applicable to that as it is to the matter of the individual scholarship of the student.

"The state of California owes no one a higher education," says Dr. Campbell, and most of the people should say amen. Those who dissent will be chiefly those who take out of the pockets of the state more than they put in. Dr. Campbell uses the text to reinforce the idea that those students who fail to make good use of their time in the higher institution should be dropped out to make room for others, who will do better. No fault can be found with that, but the deduction could be pushed much further.

If it is true that the state owes no one a higher education, it would seem that those who are getting a higher education at the expense of the state are getting a special privilege at the expense of those who are less fortunate. It is a debatable question where the responsibility of the state ceases and the responsibility of the individual begins. If the state cannot furnish a higher education to every one who applies, then it would seem reasonable to say that it is under no obligation to furnish it free to anyone.

This is by no means a disparagement of higher education, but simply an indication of the point where the expense of such education should be placed. That expense ought to be borne, in large part, by the people who get the benefit of it. Technical education creates a professional class which levies a charge upon society for its services on a scale that makes no allowance for the fact that society furnished its education at state cost. That is all very smooth for those who get the benefit, but it is not so smooth for those who pay the bill.

We would like to see Dr. Campbell elaborate his thesis that California owes no one a higher education and carry it to its logical conclusion. A state application of that logical conclusion would mightily help out the budget of state expenses.

Opportunity In Mexico

Riverside Press.
Of far more importance to the American people than the famous Chester concessions in Turkey is the getting together of the United States government and the Mexican government to complete arrangements for the long-delayed recognition of Mexico.

The outlook is said to be better today than it has been since the long series of revolutions started, a dozen years ago. Mexico under the Obregon regime has been reduced to a state of fairly normal peace and order, and the Mexican government is more regardful of foreign rights than any of its predecessors have been since the days of President Diaz. To be sure, Obregon is sticking up for Mexican rights with great vigor. But Americans respect him for that, as long as he does not carry things so far as to confiscate American property. There is every indication now of a workable compromise by which diplomatic relations can be restored between the two countries and the way can be opened for restored business relations.

When Mexico frankly acknowledges her foreign obligations and proceeds to take care of them, and welcomes foreign investment and development and once more, there would be a revival of business opportunity there compared with which anything that Turkey has to offer is trivial. The risks assumed by Americans will be, no doubt, far less in Mexico than in the Orient, for there are fewer cross-currents of foreign interests and diplomacy to reckon with. The situation is comparatively simple and the field of operation is close at hand. And pleasant relations with Mexico will make it easier to get along and do business with all of Latin-America.

The Public Business

Pasadena Star-News.
It has taken a certain type of public official a long time to become impressed with the fact that the public requires sound judgment, strict integrity and good business management of public affairs. Truth is, only of recent years have the masses of the American people taken enough independent, thoughtful interest in politics and in government to stir them to demand of public officials sound, businesslike administering of public affairs.

The people must lead the way in bringing government up to the highest state of business efficiency. For human nature is such that seldom will a man in public office be found who will forge ahead of what the people demand and work reforms in the interest of the people. In other words, reforms in government usually follow public sentiment which demands reform.

Intelligent public opinion should insistently demand businesslike retrenchment in conducting public business. Public opinion should be exerted strongly for the betterment of the public service. In this connection, it should be said that the public, in inspiring good public service, should be as quick to praise the good work of a public official, as the public usually is quick to condemn unsatisfactory public service. The faithful, competent public official should have the stimulus of the people's confidence, laudation and support.

Father is Way Behind His Spring Reading

A Family Picture

The custom of reading aloud around the dining table, while the children sat with their books and mother sewed nearby, is a picture of American family life almost extinct and a pastime of pleasure rarely indulged in today. In thinking it over we harken back to the days when there was a closer association and drawing together in friendly comradeship between children and their parents.

Usually the father led the reading, perchance some simple story of major interest to the smaller children. After a few pages Willie would take the book, father having in mind the fact that reading aloud would help the boy to find his voice and teach him to recognize and pronounce correctly the bigger words. Next time Ellen, the older daughter of 13, might read a delightful Peter Pan story, mother and father noting quietly the greater ease, growth and quality of their small daughter's reading voice.

After each reading a frank and friendly discussion of the tale was entered into by one and all, the kiddies getting the benefit of their elders' point of view and the parents a better understanding of the leanings and mental growth of their children. This continued throughout the winter months, and in time, as the little family grew up, more important books, periodicals and newspaper articles were read and discussed.

A sort of family forum prevailed, where interest never lagged. From infancy the slender cords of love, common interest and respect were day by day drawing and binding together this mutually helpful, highly respected family, occupying, as a whole, their rightful place in the community.

That adroit, gentle training could not be sloughed off so easily, and indelibly imprinted on the plastic child mind a reverence and unselfish adoration for the parents no banal, outside influence could undermine or separate. Small danger that this family, in the face of such a delightful home environment, should turn out flapper daughters or errant sons.

Sir Baden-Powell, the distinguished Scout organizer and leader, has said: "Cultivate the minds of your children." This can only be done through painstaking, intelligent sacrificing of time, personal pleasures and interests by mothers and fathers. The price of unstinted family honor, happy homes and a desire for the nobler enjoyments of life will be their full reward. It is enough.

Worth While Verse

THE YUCCA

"God's Acre", we will call it,
O'er hill and valley spread,
With desert sentinels upreared
In honor of our dead.

For though they sleep in Flanders field,
Or 'neath their native sod,
Their loyalty is chiseled
In this handiwork of God.

More fitting far, than wood or stone,
Man-hewed and man-dispersed,
Are these fair moments of His,
With heavenly love immersed.

Let not the vandal hand of man
Uproot the Yucca fair,
The God of Ages planted them,
Let mortals leave them there!

Valencia, City of Color

"Valencia, city of the Cid and Ibanez, of golden oranges and cheapest wines, which defied invasion by arms, language, or alien culture, now faces a subtle and more perplexing foe in the French tariff upon citrus fruits," says a bulletin from the Washington, District of Columbia, headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"To the Valencian, France has been as remote as Parnambuco, and even Madrid has been flouted by the proud city of the Mediterranean whose peculiar interests stress the regionalism of Spain. The one that is held weekly more revenue should sadden the happy hearts of the Valencians at their annual carnival when the orange groves are in flower is one more example of the closer ties that are ever linking places and peoples together.

City of Rainbow Hues
"Dazzling light plays upon the vari colored domes and towers, bedecked with tiles of blue and gold and white, to produce a gorgeous riot of color which adorns the canvas of Valencia's Sorolla. The making of these tiles is a Valencian industry which contributes also to the chromatic character of other Spanish cities. The Valencian loves drama as he loves color. His most famous service is one that is held weekly at Corpus Christi church where a theatrical value is achieved in the lowering by machinery of a picture of the Last Supper, and the drawing aside of successive veils which finally disclose the figure of Christ upon the cross. Women worshippers must wear the mantilla.

"The Cid wrested Valencia from the Moors in 1094, and the story of his wife, Ximena, who held the city for three years after his death and then fled through the ranks of its conquerors, with the embalmed body of her husband upon his war horse, Babieca, is a legendary incident which has engaged the pens of many Valencian poets. The love of detail which marks the writings and paintings of the region is reflected in the fact that the name of this horse is prominent in all the versions of exploits, while the mounts of Lady Godiva and Paul Revere are simply horses—nothing more.

"Valencia's cathedral has been despoiled somewhat by 'restorations,' but the campanile where the Cid took his bride to view the conquered land still offers the visitor a marvelous panorama of fertile and highly cultivated plains. "The bells of this tower give life to the plains around. Their hourly peals tell the time when each tiller of the soil may open the gates of irrigation channels to release the waters for his parched land. And the rigid observance of all the regulations concerning the use of the water supply is guarded by the oldest court in Spain, the 'tribunal of the waters,' which is made up entirely of peasants who adjust their own differences. From the rulings of this ancient tribunal, conducted more like a town meeting than a court, no appeal is ever taken and occasional efforts to displace it have been wholly unavailing.

Women Make Cigars
"Eastward from the city of El Grao, the port of Valencia, about two and a half miles distant, stretches one of the busiest highways of Spain. Mulberry trees share the land with orange groves, and Valencia's silk output is comparable in value to her orange crop. Making of cigars gives employment to many of the city's women; one factory alone, operating in an ancient custom house, has 35 hundred girls on its payroll.

Ex-Governors

Probably no state in the American Union has as many surviving ex-governors as California. The late Senator Perkins was elected in 1879. Two successors, George Stoneman and Washington Bartlett, died, but in 1890 H. H. Markham was elected since which time, now 33 years, but one who occupied the gubernatorial chair has gone over to the silent majority—James H. Budd. Those who are still with us are H. H. Markham, Henry T. Gage, George C. Pardee, James N. Gillet, Hiram W. Johnson and W. D. Stephens. The gubernatorial history is interesting. Milton S. Latham served the briefest term, five days, being elected to the United States Senate. M. M. Estee was twice defeated as the Republican nominee—in 1882 by George Stoneman, and in 1894 by James H. Budd by the close majority of 1205. Washington Bartlett was a Democrat and was succeeded by Lieutenant Governor Robert W. Waterman, a Republican, who was sometimes referred to as the "rough diamond from San Bernardino."—Oklahoma Tribune.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 1—RAGSY LAND

The next place the Twins visited on their adventures was the Land of the Ragies.

What! Never heard of the Ragies? Well, well, well! That's strange. But then! Nancy and Nick had never heard of them either until an accident happened one day. If it hadn't been for that I don't suppose they ever—

Goodness alive! There I go again, always getting off the subject.

It was this way:
The Fairy Queen sent for the Twins to take a message to Mr. Tingaling the little fairy landlord of Whispering Forest. It was about reducing the rents of the Forest Folk on May Day.

Well, Nancy and Nick were going along, not thinking of a thing, when suddenly Nick's sharp eyes saw some smoke coming out of a hollow stump.

"Look, Nancy!" he whispered, taking her hand and pointing. "Somebody's been having a fire!"

The two of them tiptoed softly over and peeped down into the black stump. Yes, sir, it was smoke! It came right up into their faces and almost made them sneeze.

"Oh, look! There's a smudge of soot on your nose, Nancy," laughed Nick.

"There's one on yours, too!" said Nancy. "Right there!"

"Because the magic smudges have opened your eyes, son!" said a voice, and turning the children beheld the raggediest, tattered and torn little fairy they had ever beheld. He was a Raggy. (To Be Continued)
